Name Sen. Scott GOP Chief; Whip Post Now Vacant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania was elected today leader of the Senate Republican minority.

Sen. Hugh Scott

Scott defeated Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., of Tennessee, 24 to 19, at a closed door conference of Senate Republicans.

The election of the 68-year-old Pennsylvanian to succeed the late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen opened a new leadership vacancy—that of GOP whip.

Scott held that No. 2 post since January and his promotion as leader touched off a follow-up campaign for whip.

A decision on a successor to Scott was put off until this afternoon amid indications Baker would be challenged for the No. 2 post by a number of the GOP senators.

Among those mentioned for the assistant leader post — Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Jack Miller of Iowa and Baker. Scott, the Pennsylvania senator fighting for promotion from the No. 2 GOP slot, said on the eve of the vote that his support was "firm and rising" and sufficient for victory.

Baker, a first-term senator from Tennessee, had insisted he was ahead but said neither candidate had the advance commitments to insure victory.

Both had discounted lingering talk that the 12-day campaign for the post might wind up in a stalemate that could throw the election to a compromise candidate.

As many as a half dozen senators refused to commit themselves openly to either of the candidates in advance of today's closed-door, secret balloting for the post left vacant by the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen. The Illinois senator who had been Republican leader for a decade, died Sept. 7.

Although none of the hopefuls would say anything publicly until after Dirksen's burial, there was considerable early backstage maneuvering by their supporters.

Union Chiefs Fight Racial Hiring Quotas

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Angry union leaders threatened today a boycott of federal construction projects to protest a government plan they said would set racial hiring quotas.

"It's going to rise the roof," said one AFL-CIO building trades leader after the Labor Department announced it would go ahead with the controversial Philadelphia plan.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said in Washington Tuesday the plan would be put into effect in Philadelphia and expanded nationwide as soon as possible to insure more high-paying construction jobs for Negroes and other minority groups.

The plan would require contractors on federal projects of $50,000 or more to hire a certain number from minority groups for iron work, plumbing, pipefitting, sheet metal and electricians jobs.

Shultz said Negro workers in those trades in the Philadelphia area amount to less than two per cent, but the unions claim about 12 per cent.

Leaders of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department, who earlier said they would throw open their doors to all qualified minority group journeymen, prepared resolutions denouncing the Philadelphia plan as "infamous" and a "union-busting" tactic.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, scheduled to speak today to the convention of the 17 construction unions, reportedly will join in the opposition to the government plan and war against black militant attempts to frighten the unions into taking in untrained Negroes.

The construction union leaders argue the plan is illegal under the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which outlawed racial employment quotas.

Art Film Arrest Hikes Attendance

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police seized a film of the movie "Vixen" Monday at The Guild theater in the Walnut Hills and Tuesday the arts theater was packed with patrons.

Police had charged Malibu Inc., owner of the theater, with possessing an obscene motion picture after the Monday raid.

Clarence Gall, manager of the theater, came right back Tuesday with a showing from another conv of the film and had an overflow crowd for each showing. The Guild seats about 775. On Monday it was reported the theater was only about a quarter filled.

Master Plan Hearing Is Well Attended

A public informational meeting concerning Circleville's master plan was well attended in city council chambers Tuesday.

The meeting was conducted by John Edsel, a representative of Parkins, Rogers and Associates. Also present from the planning consultant firm was Don Richardson.

The master plan involves an 82-square-mile area although legislation concerning zoning recommendations of the planning firm must be enacted by the various political subdivisions.

At 8 p.m. Thursday a meeting will be held in the H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Information at the meeting will be aimed specifically at the residents of the six townships involved in the master plan.

THE townships are Circleville, Washington, Walnut Wayne, Pickaway and Jackson.

The area outside the city is being included in the master plan because the city can enforce subdivision regulations within three and one-half miles of the city limits and because it is necessary in planning thoroughfares in the city, Edsel told those present at last night's meeting.

He explained the preliminary recommendations of land use proposed by the plan, noting that interested persons should voice opposition or approval now before any zoning was enacted as a result of the plan.

In answer to a question posed by Ned Harden, chairman of the regional planning commission, concerning city-county planning, Edsel said the ideal situation would be a county-wide plan.

The federal funds for the master plan however were obtained by the city, and the present planning involves only the city area.

In answer to several questions concerning annexation plans of the city, Edsel said he could not speak for the city itself, but that the master plan was not concerned with annexation.

Car Thieves Make Habit Of Floridian

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — On Aug. 14, a motorist backed into Donald Alameida's car—twice.

When Alameida got his car back from the shop 14 days later, he parked it and locked it, he said. It vanished.

Alameida bought another car and drove to Massachusetts where he heard from Fort Lauderdale police that the stolen car had been recovered—wrecked.

The car was repaired at a cost of $150, plus $46 for storage before someone broke into the paint shop and Alameida's car was stolen again.

Police telephoned Alameida Monday to inform him his car had been found—wrecked again. Still possessing the second car, Alameida parked it near a steak house, taking pains, he said, to lock all doors as well as the ignition. When he returned, it was gone.

Alameida said he was considering buying insurance.

Soviets Mum About Red Chinese

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow's odd denial that it knows anything about Mao Tse-tung's health suggests that it may, in fact, know something about what is going on in Red China: perhaps a jockeying for position in advance of a power struggle yet to come in Peking.

Soviet officialdom used the device of a cocktail party—strictly for non-Western correspondents—to spread the word that rumors about Mao attributed to Sov. sources were "provocative." By that, it may mean that those who spread such reports are trying to arouse new Peking suspicions of the Kremlin.

If there are now factions maneuvering in Peking in anticipation of Mao's retirement from the scene, Moscow may not want to rock the boat. The Kremlin may be hopeful that a new group will emerge in China with which the Russians can talk business.

The Kremlin interprets the beligerence of China as a manifestation of deep political trouble, and it may be right. Red China will celebrate on Oct. 1 the 20th anniversary of its founding. As usual for such Communist celebrations, a selection of slogans was published for the guidance of the masses on that day.

Of the 29 slogans, four bear down heavily on the possibility of war, including atomic war, and single out the Soviet Union as a potential enemy in that conflict. Three slogans directly attack Soviet "revisionism" and "social imperialism," a phrase intended to indicate Moscow designs on Chinese territory. Only three slogans salute Mao and Mao's "thought."

The tenor of this propaganda suggests to the Russians that the regime in Peking is in trouble and that thus it must have the nearby threat of catastrophe—such as war with a big neighbor—to keep the nation from falling apart.

If Mao Tse-tung is in failing health, or if he and his anointed successor, Defense Minister Lin Biao, should be losing their grip, another grim power struggle would seem inevitable, like the one which took place under the guise of Mao's "cultural revolution."

The leaders of China's army "must" have a powerful position in the nation now, but they seem to be divided into factions. Some of them probably still entertain hopes of patching up the quarrel with the Russians.

Moscow may want to watch and wait quietly to see what happens. Thus, the Kremlin is sensitive when reports attributed to "Soviet sources" give the impression that the Russians want to meddle in China's internal politics.

'Israeli Jets Attack Egypt

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked Egyptian military installations today in another of their almost daily raids along the west coast of the Gulf of Suez.

The military command said all planes returned safely following the 20-minute bombardment. An Israeli spokesman said the attack, like previous raids, was carried out "in view of continued Egyptian cease-fire violations."

The spokesman reported two Israeli soldiers killed Tuesday by Egyptian shells fired across the Suez Canal near the Firdan bridge. He said one of the victims was an 18-year-old private and the other a 41-year-old man.

Another Israeli announcement said Arab guerrillas fired a number of mortar shells early today at the Jordan River frontier settlement of Geshor. One shell landed inside the settlement but caused no damage or casualties, a spokesman said.

About three hours later an explosive charge was touched off under a bus at Kfar Tzvi, an Israeli Arab village about seven miles west of Geshor. Police said no one was injured.

In Cairo, a confident of President Gamal Abdel Nasser said the Israeli air strikes along the Gulf of Suez apparently are aimed at creating a radar-free opening to the Nile valley for Israeli planes.

Move Covers Withdrawal Of Marines

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. cruiser Boston and American B52 bombers pounded North Vietnamese gun positions and base camps inside and just to the south of the demilitarized zone Tuesday night and today, the U.S. Command announced.

U.S. headquarters also reported 8,437 "indications of enemy presence or activity" inside the buffer zone since the bombing of North Vietnam ended 11 months ago.

The Boston turned her five-inch guns on North Vietnamese mortar positions in the southern half of the DMZ Tuesday night after enemy mortarmen there slammed 40 rounds into South Vietnamese positions just south of the zone.

The U.S. Command said there were no South Vietnamese casualties.

The cruiser silenced the enemy mortars, but North Vietnamese losses were not known, U.S. spokesmen said.

Fifteen B52s bombed base camps, bunkers, supply and staging areas six miles northeast of the U.S. Marine outpost called the Rockpile, the command said.

In the past four days, up to 60 of the big bombers have attacked enemy buildup areas just below the DMZ, a sector that is being vacated by the 3rd Marine Division and turned over to the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division.

The stepup in B52 raids indicates that the U.S. Command will use the big bombers in an attempt to fill the gap that the departure of the Marines is expected to leave. The 3rd Division Marines are going to Okinawa and the United States as part of the 35,000-man withdrawal ordered by President Nixon for the next three months.

U.S. officials claim that North Vietnam agreed to keep the DMZ free of military activity in return for the bombing halt. (Continued on Page 2)

5 Young Women Attack Marriage

NEW YORK (AP) — Five young women have charged the city with perpetuating the fraud of marriage by making women "sex slaves in the unholy state of matrimony."

The women, members of the Feminists, complained Tuesday to City Clerk Herman Katz that, by issuing marriage licenses, the city supported a system of "conspiracy to exert force on the women ('t') city to enter the unholy bonds of matrimony which, for women, includes 'rape, unpaid labor and imprisonment.'"

One woman slipped a copy of the complaint to Mayor John V. Lindsay, married and the father of four. He did not respond.

4 Slain In Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four women—two employees and two patrons—were shot to death today in a holdup at the Cabinet-Supreme Savings & Loan Co. office in the Delhi area.

First reports were that one of the three bandits opened fire after herding the four women into a vault.

The three, described as young and white, fled in a green 1954 Chevrolet. At least one of the trio was described as wearing a beard.

A description of the men came from a man who was parking his car while his wife entered the savings and loan office. He heard shots and saw the men run from the office. It was not determined immediately whether his wife was one of those killed.

There also was no word as to whether the bandits got any money.

Only one of the dead was identified immediately. That was Mrs. Walter DeWald, wife of a Cincinnati policeman and an employee at the savings and loan office. He was on duty in the general area and rushed to the scene when he heard the first reports.

Other details of the shooting were not immediately available.

Military Gains More Say On Defense Budget

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed services have regained a leading role in shaping the defense budget under a significant shift by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird away from the practices of his Democratic predecessors.

Guidelines laid down by Laird and Deputy Secretary David Packard give back to the service secretaries and the uniformed chiefs much of the budget responsibility they enjoyed before former Defense Chief Robert S. McNamara started gathering powers to himself and his staff more than eight years ago.

This means the young "whiz kids" in the Pentagon's systems analysis office are being downgraded still more, pushing them back in the decision-making process which they strongly influenced in the McNamara years.

The move is in line with Laird's policy of giving the individual services a greater and earlier say in planning.

However, some key elements of McNamara's budget reforms remain and Laird is not forfeiting ultimate authority. He and Packard will make the final Pentagon decisions on the Nixon administration's first defense budget which will be sent to Congress in January.

There are indications it will be a relatively austere budget, possibly held to around $70 billion. This would be about $7 billion below the present cut down version of the final Johnson administration defense budget.

Before McNamara took over in 1961, the individual armed services were allocated an amount of money and were left largely alone as to what they did with the funds.

When McNamara became defense secretary, he threw out that system and instituted a centralized procedure under which his systems analysis experts took the lead in determining overall requirements, and how each service's forces and arms would fit into the total picture of U.S. military power. This was called a program package.

8 Convention Protesters Come To Trial In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Eight men come to trial in U.S. District Court today charged with conspiring to set off the bloody clashes between police and anti-war demonstrators at the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Selection of jurors is scheduled to begin this morning in the extra-large Ceremonial Courtroom of the U.S. Courthouse with Judge Julius J. Hoffman, 74, presiding.

The defendants, who call themselves The Conspiracy, have said they will call upon their supporters to demonstrate against the trial, the first under the antiriot provisions of the 1968 Civil Rights Act.

Some 700 persons gathered Tuesday night in Lincoln Park, scene of some of the worst of the convention week clashes, and marched more than two miles to the courthouse carrying lighted candles.

Police arrested one youth after a scuffle but the march proceeded into the Loop without further incident.

The defendants are Abbie Hoffman, 32, New York, leader of the Youth International party —Yippies; David Dellinger, 53, New York, editor of Liberation magazine; Rennie Davis, 29, Chicago, organizer for the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam; John R. Froines, 30, chemistry professor at the University of Oregon; Thomas E. Hayden, 30, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society; Jerry Rubin, 31, New York, organizer of 1967 antiwar demonstrations in Berkeley, Calif.; Lee Weiner, 29, Northwestern University research assistant in sociology; and Bobby G. Seale, 32, of Oakland, Calif., national chairman of the Black Panther party.

The defense sought a hearing on its contention that wiretap evidence against the eight was obtained illegally, but Judge Hoffman ruled that the proper time for such a hearing was after the trial.

"If the defendants are acquitted," he said, "the government can save the expense of such a hearing."

The judge has also denied motions that he disqualify himself on grounds of prejudice and that he have the trial moved to a larger arena. Once jury selection is ended in the Ceremonial Courtroom, the evidence will be heard in Judge Hoffman's smaller court.

U.S. Marshal John C. Meisner has brought in deputies from across the nation for extra security and a contingent of Chicago police has been deputized to assist them.

Youth Admits To 29 County Burglaries

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said today that 29 burglaries in the county and several in the city were cleared up today when a 17-year-old youth sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory confessed to them.

The youth also implicated a 15-year-old juvenile in several of the burglaries.

The two were arrested by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department following a burglary at the Russell Teets residence, Route 4.

Teets saw the two youths fleeing from his home and notified authorities. They had taken a bank containing approximately $20.

The older of the youths today admitted to taking an estimated $1,000 in coins from the Paul Hamilton residence on the E. Ringgold - Southern Road.

In addition, he admitted to breaking into the Youth Canteen five or six times, breaking into the Pickaway County Library, the PICCA office, Ashville Elementary School, Pickaway Grain and several other places in Circleville.

The youth told the sheriff he was also involved in burglaries at the Walter Rase Farm, Hardin Chevrolet, Thompson's Lakeside Supply, several gasoline thefts and thefts of small articles from Taylor Sunoco.

He also admitted shooting a tire on a wagon owned by Reuben Jones, Route 4.

He appeared in juvenile court last Friday and was sentenced to Mansfield. The 15-year-old was placed on probation by the juvenile court.

Claim Chinese Hoard Food For Trouble

HONG KONG (AP) — People throughout South China are hoarding food because of rumors that Mao Tse-tung is dead and a power struggle is already under way in Peking, Chinese arriving from Canton reported today.

The travelers said the rumors started because Mao has made no known public appearances in the past four months.

The sources said the rumors mushroomed and have been much more widely believed in the last two weeks because of developments which many Canton residents believe are directly attributable to Mao's death.

The travelers said the developments are:

—A new denunciation campaign that started on a big scale in July was suddenly stopped in September.

—Political denunciation wall posters suddenly disappeared throughout the city this month. They were replaced by nonpolitical posters stressing production.

—People were formerly forced to study Mao-thought and to shout "Long live Chairman Mao" in the long daily meetings. Now the meetings are short, only production is stressed and no more "Long live Chairman Mao" slogans are heard.

—Wall posters containing the words "wishing a boundlessly long life to Chairman Mao" suddenly disappeared this month.

—Radio broadcasts stopped the practice of reciting quotations from Mao this month.

—Train passengers are no longer forced to recite quotations from Mao.

—Troops loyal to Defense Minister Lin Biao were transferred from Canton this month and replaced by troops of Marshal Liu Po-cheng. The latter are reported friendly toward the people in contrast with the harsh attitude of Lin's troops.

Long - Awaited Farm Plan Presented To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration unfolded today a new general farm program aimed at making efficient farmers rely less on government subsidies and enabling the poorest to get out of agriculture completely.

About 400,000 low-income farm families might be eligible for federal payments averaging $1,000 a year under the family assistance program recently proposed by President Nixon.

More successful producers would be expected to compete in the free market without some of the high-priced federal benefits now available.

The proposals were presented by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin to the House Agriculture Committee.

The long-awaited administration farm program came as a package of alternatives and did not offer a lone remedy for the complex agricultural problems which have plagued the country for decades.

Sheriff Probes Truck Firm Burglary

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department is investigating the theft of nearly $600 worth of tools from the Midway Freight Co., Route 1, Lockbourne.

The theft was reported by Joseph Broadnax, superintendent of the trucking firm, early today.

Entry was gained into the firm by breaking the glass on a door. Two wooden boxes containing tools were forced open. The burglars were selective in what they took according to the report, removing only the smaller power tools and hand tools.

Many larger and more valuable pieces of equipment were untouched.

There was no estimate of total costs in Hardin's testimony. Federal farm programs this year are expected to cost more than $3.7 billion and have risen more than $1 billion since the Food and Agriculture Act was passed in 1965.

Brethren Hosts Revival Event

The Rev. D. Alfred Replogle will be the evangelist for a revival service at the Church of the Brethren, S. Pickaway St., beginning Sunday evening, September 28 and continuing through October 3.

The Rev. Replogle is a native of Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. and Gethany Theological Seminary, Oak Park, Ill. After graduation Rev. Replogle served several churches in Pennsylvania before coming to the Salem Church of the Brethren near Dayton in 1959. He currently serves as pastor of the New Carlisle Church of the Brethren. Besides pastoring the Salem Church, he has served as Chairman of the Board of Administration of the Southern Ohio District and on various commissions of the District.

Revival services will be conducted each evening at 7:30. Rev. Replogle will be speaking on the following themes: "The Al Is Not Good Enough," "He Is Alive," "A Game Christians Play," "Why Pray Any more," "What Is the Gospel?" "And Who Is It For?"

Congregational singing and special music will be on the program each evening.

Pastor of the local church, Rev. Clyde S. Albaugh and the congregation extends to each one a cordial invitation to worship in this service of revival and evangelism.

Fire Department Makes Two Runs

The Circleville Fire Department made two runs Tuesday, both for auto fires.

The first occurred at 9:40 p.m. in a car owned by David Bolender parked on E. Main St. The fire, caused by a short in the wiring, was out when the firemen arrived. There was no estimate of damage.

A 1958 Chevrolet owned by Robert Hill, Route 2, received $10 damage due to a fire at 10:30 p.m. A cigarette in the back seat was given as the possible cause.

Hardin mentioned the issue of limiting federal farm payments in his prepared testimony but said only that the alternative proposals "are intended to be workable with a reasonable kind of payment limit."

The law, which sets production controls and payment rates on an annual basis, is due to expire next year.

A massive land-retirement plan for taking whole farms from production and replacing existing commodity programs was not offered in the administration proposals.

But Hardin did recommend a pilot program in which up to four million acres a year could be retired permanently.

Move Covers

no has denied this, saying the bombing cessation was unconditional.

Of the 8,437 "enemy indications," the U.S. Command said only 207 were "significant incidents of enemy-initiated action."

The other incidents, the Command said, were minor, such as trail activity, moving lights at night, and new bunkers.

U.S. forces, in response to the indications of enemy presence or activity, have attacked positions inside the zone 4,325 times since last Nov. 1. U.S. artillery, fighter-bombers and 7th Fleet warships all have participated in the attacks.

Elsewhere, U.S. Navy river boats ambushed enemy soldiers attempting to cross the Saigon River 35 miles northwest of Saigon for the third time in the past two nights. Headquarters said 14 Viet Cong were killed in the latest ambush, raising the total enemy killed in the three actions to 56. There have been no U.S. casualties.

In the same general area, 10 enemy were killed in a ground probe early today against the night bivouac of an allied armored column. Three Americans and some South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded.

The U.S. Command said there were 19 enemy rocket and mortar attacks between 8 a.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. today. Two Americans were killed and 22 wounded.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mutual funds were designed to be used as prayer rugs in the temple of investment, but too many people are using them as knee pads in a crap game," said George Washburn, who has many thousands of dollars in funds.

That's one way of viewing the so-called performance derby, in which dozens of mutual funds try at any hour or week to prove that their investments have risen more sharply than those of their competitors.

The mania, as some call it, has been a startling—even alarming—developing of the past few years.

Funds to whom millions of dollars have been entrusted have taken gambling shots with green stocks. And in a rising market, such as prevailed in recent years, they have often pocketed big returns from their big risks.

There's a lot of gambling blood in Americans, it seems. Reading about the feats of these mutual funds, casual observers soon became deeply committed stockholders, buying up shares of the front-runners.

By leading the derby, or placing high on the list, some rather new and small funds attracted so much money that they became giants of finance in a matter of a year or three.

And now Washburn, who runs the mutual fund department at Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, says it's all wrong. The fixation on short-term performance, he maintains, is a lot of nonsense.

"Short term should mean 10 years," he says. "You can't judge a counsel's ability to manage a portfolio in less than that."

Washburn has preached consistently that funds should not be purchased for short-term aims but should be tied to long-range objectives, such as retirement.

He maintains that the performance derby has badly distorted the role of funds. Money invested in a mutual fund should not be gambling money, he states. It should be the very money that now goes into the bank.

"The future of this business," he says, "is going to come not from its use as an investment but its use as a means of saving. We're talking about savings, not speculation."

The notion that funds are for quick profits, Washburn feels, has misled customer and salesman alike.

Customers continue to put the bulk of their savings in the bank, despite inflation, and commit only a small part to securities. And salesmen, instead of aiming their efforts at the billions of dollars that Americans set aside for savings seek only the smaller portion that is reserved for speculation.

But aren't mutual funds, no matter how broadly diversified, a good deal riskier than banks? Perhaps, but Washburn feels the risk can be minimized by choosing funds with consistent records for many years.

"Satchel" Paige, ageless pitcher who was barred too long from the big leagues, has taken to lecturing in his old age—though he still can breeze through several innings without puffing. "I like that talking trail—so long as they pay me," he explains.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My own children and my daughter's children were virtually brought up on Dr. Benjamin Spock's books on child care. Many families feel as I do about the wonderful extra help he has given us when our own doctor was not immediately available.

I was really upset that so many of our "Grandma's Coffee Klatch" are down on him because of his non-medical involvements.

Mrs. H.W.W., Massachusetts Dear Mrs. W.: Walt Whitman once expressed the thought that it was necessary to separate a man from his work. This applies particularly to Dr. Benjamin Spock who has made such extraordinary contributions to the health and destiny of millions of Americans.

It is inconceivable but true that there are still thousands of square miles in the United States where there is a scarcity of doctors. Dr. Spock's book has supplied the proper answers, and relieved the anxiety of parents in these places until a physician was available.

His books were never meant to replace doctors, but rather to amplify the answers parents need. His contribution has been remarkable.

There is no relationship between his political views and the medical truths in his books. His concise medical writings should not be discarded by those who differ from him otherwise. Children and their parents would be deprived of the comfort that Dr. Spock's books have provided for so many years.

Our second child was born with an enlarged thymus gland. Our doctor doesn't seem to be concerned about it, but we are, because we heard that this can cause trouble in later life.

Mrs. P. H., Michigan Dear Mrs. H.: It is interesting to me that the information you obtained from your doctor is not as readily acceptable as is that from uninformed "hearsay" sources.

Anxious persons "hear" the wrong things frequently. You must learn to get qualified opinions to avoid further confusion.

The thymus gland is a good-sized organ that lies in the upper part of the chest in front of the windpipe and the lungs. As the child grows older and approaches puberty, the thymus gland grows smaller and smaller, and finally practically disappears.

In the past, the scientific ignorance about the functions of the thymus gland tended to bypass its real importance. Today, more and more evidence points to the fact that this gland plays a very important role in the formation of antibodies to protect the infant and the growing child against infections.

In the last ten years, a great deal of information has been accumulated about the role the thymus plays in muscle strength. A condition known as "myasthenia gravis" can in some cases be improved by the removal of the thymus gland that persists in the adult. As for your child's problem, please be assured by your doctor's impression that you have no cause for concern.

Clean Venezuelan Slums

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

CARACAS, Venezuela — The Mont Pelerin Society, the association of anti-Statist economists whose principles, as adapted by the Christian Democratic parties, saved more than one European nation from drifting into total socialism after World War II, has, by some exquisite irony, been meeting not far from here in a state-owned hotel by the sea in a country where the government plays the determining role in virtually every phase of economic life. But, by another irony, the Mont Pelerians, whose ranks include Nixon's close adviser, Professor Milton Friedman, couldn't have chosen a better place than Caracas to observe the ineradicable urge of people to possess private property and practice voluntary enterprise.

The lesson is to be read on the beautiful hills that rise all around the valley of Caracas. On these hills you see two types of dwellings inhabited by the poor who have been pouring into the capital to escape the monotony of rural life. One type is the tall government-owned apartment house which offers three bedrooms to the ex-pasent for $22 a month. The instinct of local architects for happy pastel colors saves the state - subsidized apartments from a barracks-like dreariness. Even so, the appellation of "vertical slum" applies to many of the buildings.

By contrast, the so-called barrios — the acres of close-packed huts which house some 600,000 of Caracas's two million population — represent something infinitely heartening. I was taken to the Barrio Isaia Medina Angarita by Moshe Shapiro, a former Immigration Officer for the State of Israel who now works for an organization called Accion en Venezuela, which was started as a voluntary private peace corps by Joseph Blatchford, who now heads the government Peace Corps in Washington, D. C. It is a story in itself. Accion has been working in the barrios to spread the principle of self-help at the base of Venezuelan society. This is necessary work, but, in certain respects, it has been like carrying coals to Newcastle.

The Caracas barrio inhabitant, one observes, is, by nature, the complete individualist. The truly interesting thing about the barrios is that they represent slums which are ceasing to be true slums. The Barrio dweller resists the government-subsidized apartment because he wants to own something of his own. A Barrio comes into being when a group, following an energetic leader, organizes a raid, somewhat equivalent to the Oklahoma land rush of the Eighteen Nineties, on a tract of government land on a hillside that is too steep for normal exploitation. Exercising his squatter's right, an ex-pasent will put up a shack made out of boxes and corrugated iron for his house. A Barrio, at its inception, looks like a North American Hooverville of depression days. But then a miraculous transformation begins.

Without benefit of mortgage, and with only intermittent employment to support him, the Barrio dweller — or maybe it is his wife — begins to build a true house around his shanty. The material is a local brick, reinforced at critical points by iron rods. It may take years, but in the end the Barrio dweller achieves four sturdy walls, plastered over and colored yellow, blue or light green. When the true roof finally goes on, the Barrio dweller dismantles the shack in which he has been living inside the new shell and heaves it down the hillside where it can be picked up for temporary use by some one else. He has become a home-owner, with an equity worth a couple of thousand dollars. And, though his land title is questionable, he can afford to thumb his nose, so to speak, at his less energetic brother who is paying $22 a month to live in a state-subsidized apartment.

The Barrios of Caracas have water and sewage and transportation problems that constitute a planner's nightmare. But the Barrios represent votes, and, by degrees, the politicians get around to providing paved roads and water when election time is approaching. Youth-Oriented Films

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Today's formula for successful films: Reach the "now" generation.

For many years the movie industry has known that its market is the young crowd; various surveys have indicated that most filmgoers are under 25. Yet producers seemed unable to fashion its product in the youthful mode. Movie themes continued to be Establishment-oriented, and most top stars were in their 40s, 50s or even 60s.

"The Graduate" changed all that. Without name stars or high-powered production, the film quickly racked up a $50 million gross. Obviously it communicated with youth—and parents went to see it, too, perhaps to learn more about the generation gap.

Current releases confirm the box office value of youth-oriented movies. Such films as "Midnight Cowboy," "Easy Rider," "Goodbye Columbus," "Last Summer" and "Alice's Restaurant" are drawing crowds. Their casts are composed mostly of unknowns and the budgets are slight. Yet they are doing better business than most expensive productions with big-name stars.

The major companies are getting the message.

Louis F. Polk, new president of MGM, visited the studio recently and remarked: "MGM will become more aggressive in trying to make pictures contemporary and more rapidly than ever, films that make a social comment, that deal with the things of today."

Richard Zanuck recently assumed the presidency of 20th Century Fox, adding the post to his production duties at the studios. At 34, he is the youngest of the top film bosses, and it appears natural he would favor movies of greater appeal to the young audience.

The advantages of the youth-oriented films are many. Besides the large audience, there are these economic factors:

1. Star names are unimportant—hence the budget is not burdened by stars who demand from a half - million to a million dollars.

2. Youthful directors can be used, and the new breed of directors often shoot faster and sometimes better than Hollywood veterans. They also prefer to work in authentic locales, thus avoiding studio overhead.

There are disadvantages as well:

1. Such talent can sometimes be undisciplined. Refusing studio advice, the new film makers may bring forth movies that make no sense and evoke no response from audiences.

2. The explicit depiction of sex and other censorable matters can bring problems. But censorship is becoming less and less of a problem.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mutual funds were designed to be used as prayer rugs in the temple of investment, but too many people are using them as knee pads in a crap game," said George Washburn, who has many thousands of dollars in funds.

That's one way of viewing the so-called performance derby, in which dozens of mutual funds try at any hour or week to prove that their investments have risen more sharply than those of their competitors.

The mania, as some call it, has been a startling—even alarming—development of the past few years.

Funds to whom millions of dollars have been entrusted have taken gambling shots with green stocks. And in a rising market, such as prevailed in recent years, they have often pocketed big returns from their big risks.

There's a lot of gambling in Americans, it seems. Reading about the feats of these mutual funds, casual observers soon became deeply committed stockholders, buying up shares of the front-runners.

By leading the derby, or placing high on the list, some rather new and small funds attracted so much money that they became giants of finance in a matter of a year or three.

And now Washburn, who runs the mutual fund department at Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, says it's all wrong. The fixation on short-term performance, he maintains, is a lot of nonsense.

"Short term should mean 10 years," he says. "You can't judge a counsel's ability to manage a portfolio in less than that."

Washburn has preached consistently that funds should not be purchased for short-term aims but should be tied to long-range objectives, such as retirement.

He maintains that the performance derby has badly distorted the role of funds. Money invested in a mutual fund should not be gambling money, he states. It should be the very money that now goes into the bank.

"The future of this business," he says, "is going to come not from its use as an investment but its use as a means of saving. We're talking about savings, not speculation."

The notion that funds are for quick profits, Washburn feels, has misled customer and salesman alike.

Customers continue to put the bulk of their savings in the bank, despite inflation, and commit only a small part to securities. And salesmen, instead of aiming their efforts at the billions of dollars that Americans set aside for savings seek only the smaller portion that is reserved for speculation.

But aren't mutual funds, no matter how broadly diversified, a good deal riskier than banks? Perhaps, but Washburn feels the risk can be minimized by choosing funds with consistent records for many years.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My own children and my daughter's children were virtually brought up on Dr. Benjamin Spock's books on child care. Many families feel as I do about the wonderful extra help he has given us when our own doctor was not immediately available.

I was really upset that so many of our "Grandma's Coffee Klatch" are down on him because of his non-medical involvements.

Mrs. H.W.W., Massachusetts Dear Mrs. W.: Walt Whitman once expressed the thought that it was necessary to separate a man from his work. This applies particularly to Dr. Benjamin Spock who has made such extraordinary contributions to the health and destiny of millions of Americans.

It is inconceivable but true that there are still thousands of square miles in the United States where there is a scarcity of doctors. Dr. Spock's book has supplied the proper answers, and relieved the anxiety of parents in these places until a physician was available.

His books were never meant to replace doctors, but rather to amplify the answers parents need. His contribution has been remarkable.

There is no relationship between his political views and the medical truths in his books. His concise medical writings should not be discarded by those who differ from him otherwise. Children and their parents would be deprived of the comfort that Dr. Spock's books have provided for so many years.

Our second child was born with an enlarged thymus gland. Our doctor doesn't seem to be concerned about it, but we are, because we heard that this can cause trouble in later life.

Mrs. P. H., Michigan Dear Mrs. H.: It is interesting to me that the information you obtained from your doctor is not as readily acceptable as is that from uninformed "hearsay" sources.

Anxious persons "hear" the wrong things frequently. You must learn to get qualified opinions to avoid further confusion.

The thymus gland is a good-sized organ that lies in the upper part of the chest in front of the windpipe and the lungs. As the child grows older and

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "America has been making the best pictures in the world for the last two years," said Terence Young, one of Britain's top directors.

"Your film industry has had a dramatic renaissance, started by Mike Nichols. I think his 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?' and 'The Graduate' are the two best-directed pictures of the last 20 years.

"They showed the way to a new realism."

These are generous words indeed, but Terry Young can afford to be generous. Starting first as a film critic and then as a script writer, he has directed more than 20 movies, including "Wait Until Dark" and three of the James Bond pictures, "Dr. No," "From Russia With Love," and "Operation Thunderball," which has taken in more than $60 million.

"I believe that makes it one of the top five or six in film history," remarked Young, who has just finished "The Christmas Tree," starring William Holden and 11-year-old Brook Fuller.

Young, a tall, uninhibited Irishman who used to box at Cambridge University and had four tanks shot out from under him as an officer in the Irish Guards armored regiment during World War II, showed up for lunch wearing a turbanlike headband.

"I fled down a companionway in a sailing boat while carrying a tray of drinks," he explained. "I had to have eight stitches, but they're mending nicely."

A colorful and controversial figure, as effervescent as soda water but considerably more flavorful, Terry feels a new day has dawned in the film industry, one in which it is no longer so dependent upon stars.

"The director is coming into his own now," he said. "People are shopping for directors almost as much as for stars. The writer's turn is coming, but isn't here yet.

"I think the trend is good, because the most important things in a picture are, first, the subject matter and then the director."

What about the actors? Young waved his hands expressively. "A special type of picture will always require a star," he said, "but the marvelous thing today is you can make a picture without a big name. It has been shown you don't always have to have a star."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I'm writing this letter in behalf of all the lonely people in the nursing homes in our community. It's time the people in this community woke up and became concerned about the forgotten citizens.

The staffs that run these homes are wonderful dedicated people who really love these special people and are trying to do everything in their power to make their lives more comfortable.

They cannot do everything. They need everyone's help to put some joy in their lives. It isn't easy on the nurses and helpers to see these forgotten people sit or lay for months and months without having someone come to visit them.

There are a few people that have families that do care for them, but the majority are lonely and forgotten. These people have physical and mental problems. But we all know that if everyone showed they loved them and cared what happens to them, they would improve greatly.

If we make one individual happy our efforts will not have been in vain.

We all are guilty of living only for ourselves and our loved ones. I think we all should search our hearts and ask God to give us a deep concern for these people.

Each one of us should fall to our knees and ask God's forgiveness for our negligence and selfishness. We need to get our whole selves actively involved with these homes. There are many things we can do.

We can visit each one of them and let them know we do care. We can see that each one has a church service once a week. We can take our Sunday school classes to these people and let the children sing songs.

We can get birthday lists of all the people and see that they get showers of cards.

I'm sure the Lord will bless your life for anything you might do. Let's all get busy and make life worth living for all of our aged people in the community.

In Christian Love,
MRS. DAVID DUMM

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Sept. 24, the 267th day of 1969. There are 98 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1789, the U.S. Congress passed the first judiciary act, providing for an attorney general and a Supreme Court headed by a chief justice and five associate justices.

On this date: In 1780, Benedict Arnold escaped to a British ship after attempting to betray the West Point fortifications on the Hudson River.

In 1869, it was Black Friday in New York. An attempt by financiers Jay Gould and James Fisk to corner the gold market resulted in a Wall Street panic.

In 1929, Lt. James Doolittle demonstrated the use of flight instruments in a so-called "blind flight" over New York.

In 1941, during World War II, nine European nations and the Soviet Union pledged full allegiance to the Atlantic Charter.

In 1943, also during World War II, Allied forces began a drive to capture Naples.

In 1946, after the war, the Salvation Army was re-established in Japan.

Ten years ago — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was in Washington.

Five years ago — Willi Stoph was named premier of East Germany, succeeding Otto Grotewohl.

One year ago — There were several fatalities in an all-night battle between students and police in Mexico City.

Social Security Answers

Q — I am the main support of my elderly parents. Can they get benefits based on my social security earnings?

A — If they are 62 or older, they can get survivors benefits if you should die. However, they are not eligible for benefits while you are still living.

Q — Can I collect both my own retirement benefit and also the wife's or widow's benefit based on my husband's work under social security?

A — No. You will get a benefit equal to whichever is the larger payment. What happens is that in either case you will be paid your own retirement benefit. But if the wife's or widow's benefit based on your husband's record is higher than your retirement benefit, the difference will be added to your retirement benefit check.

Q — If I elect to receive reduced benefits as a wife and my husband dies, will my widow's benefits be reduced because I had drawn reduced wife's benefits?

A — No. The widow draws full benefits as a widow if she is 62 or over whether or not she has been receiving reduced wife's benefits?

Q — If I receive reduced benefits at 62 or before I'm 65, will I have to go to the Social Security office and file for Medicare benefits at 65?

A — As you are a Social Security beneficiary when you reach 65, you will be automatically covered for hospital benefits under the Medicare program. However, in order to come under the supplementary medical benefits part which provides for doctor bills you must make an election. A card will be mailed to you approximately 3 months before you reach 65 and this will give you an opportunity to elect coverage under the medical part of the program.

Set Hearing On Cosmetic Firm Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Arguments will be heard in Common Pleas Court Oct. 20 on an injunction request filed by the state to bar a Florida-based cosmetics firm from doing business in Ohio.

Petitions filed Tuesday by Ohio Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown against Koscot International Inc. charge that the firm has failed to heed a cease and desist order issued June 6 by the state securities commission.

The injunction request asserts that Koscot's sales procedures are in violation of Ohio's Securities Act, which requires registration and licensing. Brown asked for a permanent injunction as well as a temporary injunction.

In issuing the cease and desist order, state securities chief Gordon Peltier charged that Koscot violates the Securities act through its sale of distributorships.

Brown's petition maintained that the sale plan emphasizes recruitment of other investors instead of product sales.

Local Koscot representatives have denied they are violating the Ohio Securities Act. They filed for a declaratory judgment following Peltier's order to cease operations.

Rivers Sees Military Bill On House Floor Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Armed Services Committee Chairman L. Mendel Rivers says he expects to have the $20 billion defense spending bill just passed by the Senate on the House floor next week.

Rivers, D-S.C., said he expects to get the mammoth authorization for military hardware including the Safeguard antimissile system out of his committee in three days.

If he succeeds, he'll have it on the floor while House military spending critics are still trying to organize their assault.

Senate critics managed to cut only $79.6 million off the $20 billion authorization before approving it last week after six weeks of debate. Rivers said the House bill will be for $21.347 billion, an addition of $1.4 billion tacked on by Rivers for ships.

"I'm not going to compete with the Senate," he said in an interview. "I'm going to tell the House what I think this country needs and let it vote it up or down."

Most House critics doubt they will succeed in cutting the bill either in the Armed Services Committee or on the floor.

"I'm optimistic we're going to do better than we've ever done before," said Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., a military spending critic. "But the temper of the House is not to overturn the committee's work."

Nedzi's optimism is not that critics will make any cuts in the 435-member House but that they will muster some 100 votes "which is five times what you usually get against a military system in the House."

Nedzi is one of five committee rebels who say they hope to take some $2 billion out of the bill this week before it gets to the floor.

They say their targets include $1.4 billion for ships, $345 million for Safeguard deployment, $533 million for additional C5A cargo planes, and $67 million for the U.S.-German main Battle Tank 70.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall denied without comment Tuesday a request to put off the trial of eight demonstrators in the Democratic National Convention disturbances last summer.

Lawyers for the demonstrators had asked the court for a stay order pending further appeals of lower court decisions. The eight are set to go to trial Wednesday before U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman in Chicago.

The demonstrators are accused of conspiracy to travel interstate with intent to engage in rioting.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Benny Jackson, 21, who escaped from the Dayton warehouse a month ago, was shot to death Tuesday when he fled from a Jefferson Township policeman who had spotted him in a restaurant.

Police Lt. Hubert Burns said he caught up with Jackson following a short chase and that Jackson was shot in the abdomen during a scuffle. Jackson died several hours later in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Dear Abby: One Woman Not Enough For Him!

DEAR ABBY: Six years ago, when I was 42 and Max (not his name) was 52, we both married for a second time. I had been a divorcee for 15 years and he had been recently shed by a wife whose "coldness" had finally driven him to outside companionship; her uncontested charge was adultery. He wooed me fervently, saying I was everything he had ever wanted in a wife. Our six years were blissful in all ways, and I thought myself the luckiest woman alive. We are both professional people. I work from 9 to 5. He from one in the afternoon until nine at night.

A month ago Max was rushed to the hospital for emergency surgery. When I went into his drawers for things to take to the hospital, I found diaries he had kept the entire six years of our marriage. They were shockingly explicit.

After I had left for work, he had entertained women, which he rated according to the degree of thrill each gave him. A girl named Genevieve rated two stars. Mary got four stars every time. (I, whose ratings with him he always pronounced "exquisite," rated only one star!) Whether the sex was also "plain" or "fancy" was outlined in detail.

I went to visit his ex-wife and learned even more. He is 64 years old, not 58. She said that his demands were insatiable, although she had not denied him any more than I had. "Other women" were the only thing they ever fought about. And he had many.

Abby, when you advise women whose husbands are unfaithful, you imply that the wife is lacking something. I just wanted you to know that there are men like my husband, for whom no one woman is enough. My whole world has crashed around my ears.

Farm Bureau Women Plan Rural-Urban Luncheon

Pickaway County Farm Bureau Women's Committee met recently to make plans for its Rural-Urban Luncheon to be held Nov. 17. The Rev. Russell Hoy will be the featured speaker.

Mrs. John Moss Sr. presided over the meeting and named the committees for the luncheon. Mrs. Orville Gifford and Mrs. Marvin Rittinger will provide table arrangements, and Mrs. Charles Rose and Mrs. Beryl Stevenson, the name tags. Door prizes will be donated by the Farm Bureau Councils with Mrs. Arthur Leist and Mrs. Nelson Stevens serving as co-chairman of this committee. The kitchen committee includes Mrs. Luther List, Mrs. Russell Yaple, Miss Mary Clark and Mrs. Austin Greene. Publicity chairman is Mrs. Robert A. Jones.

The county-wide rabies clinics were also discussed and members were asked to recruit helpers from their respective councils. Mrs. Carl Martin is serving as the Women's Committee chairman of the rabies clinics, which will be held on Sunday, Nov. 2, at several locations throughout the county.

Nelson Stevens, Farm Bureau organization director, announced that the Farm Bureau Annual Meeting was tentatively scheduled for October 11.

Those attending the meeting included Mrs. Marvin Rittinger, Mrs. Beryl Stevenson, Mrs. Russell Yaple, Mrs. Arthur Leist, Mrs. Carl Martin, Mrs. Luther List, Mrs. Charles Rose, Mrs. Robert A. Jones, Mrs. John Moss Sr. and Stevens.

Retired Teachers Discuss Current School Problems

Pickaway County and adjacent area Retired Teachers' Assn. luncheon meeting was held Saturday at the L and K Restaurant. Following the opening by Mrs. John Dowler, who offered prayers written especially for teachers, various officers gave their reports.

Mrs. Dowler read material from the state president, stressing particularly the necessity for each member to keep in close touch with our member of Congress and with all proposed legislation on the state and local level. She also announced the annual state meeting of NRTA at the Ohio State Union on October 16. Reservations for the luncheon must be made to Mrs. Dowler by October 12.

Dr. W. L. Sprouse, program chairman, presented Mrs. Richard Pettit, soloist, who accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Hodges sang, "On a Clear Day" and "The Sound of Music."

Roger Hobbie, member of the Logan Elm Board of Education and a foreman in the engineering department at DuPont, spoke on present day school problems within our county. He discussed the impact of Ohio's new school law stating that in some instances local schools are actually harmed by the new financing program and that it always complicates school management when the General Assembly calls the funds but does not supply the funds. He predicted changes we may expect in the near future, notably the emphasis on vocational education and the removal of control from the local boards, along with the creation of much larger districts.

He stresses, however, that the most important part of the school system is still the teacher. Along with good preparation every teacher needs three special powers: the power of understanding, the power of sympathy, and the power of communication.

After reading "A Code To Live By" written by a Logan Elm graduate when he was a freshman, who has recently died in Viet Nam, Mr. Hobbie closed with this question: "Can our teachers of today and tomorrow educate our young men and women so that they may have a sound code to live by and to die by? If not, then what do we need to do to assure this type of dedication to God and our country in our young people of today?"

In his response Dr. Sprouse stated that he is opposed to people who are only theorists setting the standards for our schools rather than the people with the experience of having faced the problems. He emphasized that we must not neglect general education in order to substitute vocational training. He said that in the past few years technological advancement in the United States has been extraordinary, but we have not advanced commensurately in the area of human relations.

An unusual Christmas program is being arranged for the December 6 meeting and all members are urged to attend.

Guild 45 Holds Family Picnic

Berger Hospital Guild 45 held a family picnic recently at the home of Mrs. Robert Pontius, Route 1, Ashville, with Mrs. F. C. Russell as co-hostess.

Beta Sigma Phi Maps Plans For Coming Year

Xi Eta Epsilon Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Howard Snook and discussed plans for the coming year.

President, Mrs. Charles Joffile, conducted the business meeting. Copies of the by-laws were drawn up by the board and given to each member for review and consideration.

An executive board meeting was scheduled for Sept. 29 in the home of Mrs. Robert Seranton.

Mrs. Howard Snook, hostess, presented a program illustrating the importance of conversation in our every day life in the advancement of civilization. Each member was given a test to determine how persuasive she is.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Jane Badertscher to Mrs. Duane Feldmen, Mrs. Charles Joffile, Mrs. Howard Judd, Mrs. John Kelchner, Mrs. David Sealock and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, 322 S. Pickaway St., have returned from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Bowling and daughter, Sherry Lynn of St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Arledge of 318 Abernathy Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Arledge of 310 Mingo St., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Caudill of Route 4 and Mr. and Mrs. William Streber of Kingston, all drove to Springfield on Sunday, where they held their annual fall dinner with Mrs. William Paxson and son, Mr. and Mrs. William Paxson III and family and Mr. and Mrs. David Blackburn and family.

Senate May Open Nursing Home Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee chairman called today for new hearings into problems in the nation's nursing homes.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, singled out a series of articles this week by The Associated Press on nursing homes.

"The time has come for another hard look at chronic problems in the field," said Moss, who heads the subcommittee on long-term care, part of the Senate Committee on Aging.

Moss said in a statement he plans hearings on chain ownership of nursing homes, requirements in medical care, and payments under the Medicaid and Medicare programs.

He also indicated he may hold national hearings similar to a series across the country in 1965 which led to stiffer federal regulations. No date was set for the hearings.

Moss said, "Attention must be given to entirely new problems which have arisen since passage of Medicare and Medicaid. The Associated Press has performed an invaluable service by describing those problems... and also in describing growing pressures for thorough going professionalization in this field of medicine."

400 Return To Homes At Harrison

HARRISON, Ohio (AP) — Nearly 400 persons were back in their homes today following a 16-hour evacuation Monday night and early Tuesday because of a toxic chemical.

The chemical spewed from ruptured tanks being transported by a tractor-trailer from Texas City, Tex., to a Du Pont plant at Belle, W. Va.

"Everything is back to normal," a Harrison police officer said after the evacuation ended at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday.

The vehicle's drivers—George Helmer, 33, of Oklahoma City, and William Thrift, 40, of Moore Okla. — were treated and released from General Hospital at Cincinnati after they complained of dizziness. They had stopped at a weighing station on Interstate 74 for help and the fumes spread.

Experts from the Amoco Chemical Co. of Texas City closed off leaks from four tanks. The substance, known as methyl mercaptan, is potentially poisonous.

5 Men Arrested In Marijuana Raid

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Five young men were arrested and 275 pounds of marijuana with a retail value of $750,000 was confiscated in three raids Tuesday by police in Cleveland and suburban Cleveland Heights and Shaker Heights.

Police said the marijuana was the largest amount ever confiscated in the Cleveland area.

Senate May Open Nursing Home Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee chairman called today for new hearings into problems in the nation's nursing homes.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, singled out a series of articles this week by The Associated Press on nursing homes.

"The time has come for another hard look at chronic problems in the field," said Moss, who heads the subcommittee on long-term care, part of the Senate Committee on Aging.

Moss said in a statement he plans hearings on chain ownership of nursing homes, requirements in medical care, and payments under the Medicaid and Medicare programs.

He also indicated he may hold national hearings similar to a series across the country in 1965 which led to stiffer federal regulations. No date was set for the hearings.

Moss said, "Attention must be given to entirely new problems which have arisen since passage of Medicare and Medicaid. The Associated Press has performed an invaluable service by describing those problems... and also in describing growing pressures for thoroughgoing professionalization in this field of medicine."

400 Return To Homes At Harrison

HARRISON, Ohio (AP) — Nearly 400 persons were back in their homes today following a 16-hour evacuation Monday night and early Tuesday because of a toxic chemical.

The chemical sprayed from ruptured tanks being transported by a tractor-trailer from Texas City, Tex., to a Du Pont plant at Belle, W. Va.

"Everything is back to normal," a Harrison police officer said after the evacuation ended at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday.

The vehicle's drivers—George Helmer, 33, of Oklahoma City, and William Thrift, 40, of Moore, Okla. — were treated and released from General Hospital at Cincinnati after they complained of dizziness. They had stopped at a weighing station on Interstate 74 for help and the fumes spread.

Experts from the Amoco Chemical Co. of Texas City closed off leaks from four tanks.

The substance, known as methyl mercaptan, is potentially poisonous.

5 Men Arrested In Marijuana Raid

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Five young men were arrested and 275 pounds of marijuana with a retail value of $750,000 was confiscated in three raids Tuesday by police in Cleveland and suburban Cleveland Heights and Shaker Heights.

Police said the marijuana was the largest amount ever confiscated in the Cleveland area.

Reject Dismissal Of Jury Prospects

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A request by defense lawyers for dismissal of a panel of 33 prospective jurors in a bank robbery case because one of the defendants was led into the courtroom wearing handcuffs was denied Tuesday by U. S. District Judge William K. Thomas.

The defendants are being tried for bank robbery in the theft of $93,000 from the Lorain County Savings and Trust Co. in August, 1968.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Cold air is pushed across the state this morning.

Temperatures dropped into the lower 50s, over the north-west counties, despite cloudy skies and moderate winds. They remained in the lower 60s over the southeast sections, which were not yet affected by the cold front.

Rain or showers were reported in nearly all sections of the state during the last few hours before dawn.

Temperatures are expected to drop into the 40s tonight, except where local conditions favor some moderation such as near Lake Erie.

Thursday will find readings remaining on the cool side for late September but some local warming is likely in the southern counties. Friday should see the mercury rising a little again but this may well be accompanied by more showers.

Rain or showers were reported in nearly all sections of the state during the last few hours before dawn.

Temperatures are expected to drop into the 40s tonight, except where local conditions favor some moderation such as near Lake Erie.

Thursday will find readings remaining on the cool side for late September but some local warming is likely in the southern counties. Friday should see the mercury rising a little again but this may well be accompanied by more showers.

FORECASTS
OHIO — Cool tonight with showers northeast and partial clearing southwest. Lows in the 40s. Thursday partly cloudy and continued cool.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Mostly cloudy, windy and cooler tonight with a chance of showers. Lows in the middle to lower 40s. Thursday partly cloudy and cool. High in the middle to lower 60s.

CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL OHIO — Mostly cloudy and cooler tonight with a chance of showers. Lows 45-50. Partly cloudy and continued cool Thursday. High 65-71.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Mostly cloudy and cooler tonight. Lows 46-52. Partly cloudy and continued cool Thursday. High 65-72.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Partly cloudy and cool tonight and Thursday. Lows tonight in the 40s. Highs Thursday in the upper 60s to the lower 70s.

3 More Ohioans Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two more Ohio Army men have been killed in recent action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

They were:
Spec. 4 Kenneth L. Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Perry of 3821 South Dixie Highway, Franklin.

Pfc. Stephen E. Crist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Crist of 308 Poore Road, Conneaut. Another Ohio Army man, Pfc. Edmond R. Saccomen, son of Arvilla M. Saccomen of 245 Adams St. Youngstown, was listed as having died not as a result of hostile action.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECASTS

Temperatures will average a little below normal Thursday through Monday. Highs will average from 70-75 and overnight lows will range from 42-50. Scattered showers near the end of the week are expected to total .5 inch or more.

Nursing Homes Become Dumping Ground For Mentally Ill

Editor's Note: Mental nightmares haunt many of the million elderly Americans in nursing homes, yet few receive any hint of psychiatric care. Instead, nursing homes turn to drugs and restraining straps. This is the third of five articles.

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The priest was saying Mass in the dingy Detroit nursing home when an old man with white stubble on his chin raised his grizzled face and blurted out a childhood prayer:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
"I pray the Lord my soul to keep.
"If I should die before I wake,
"—Who the hell would care."

George Lewis, who is 78, is one of almost a million Americans living their last days in nursing homes financed largely by the federal government.

For many of these patients, it is a lonely, desolate, empty end. "It is a living death," said a Los Angeles clergyman. "They sit and stare and wait—and watch each other die."

A Cleveland researcher, Dr. Margaret Blenkner, added, "Don't kid yourself. Just walk into a nursing home and tell me how many happy, laughing faces you see."

This hidden million are old and alone, confused and forgotten.

Half are past 77. Most are widowed. For many of them, the mind is ebbing, or eroded—and this, not ill health, is the main reason many are in a nursing home.

The grim sight of rows of patients who sit and stare at nothing is not a fault of the nursing homes. It is a fact of health, and a flaw of a nation that has no real plan for taking care of the mental nightmares that haunt the aging.

A study by Dr. Alvin I. Goldfarb, former head of the American Psychiatric Association's committee on aging, has listed 86 per cent of the patients in nursing homes as suffering mental disorders that range from senility to insanity.

Yet a reporter who visited more than a score of nursing homes across the country failed to find any sign of psychiatric care. And, in interviews, several psychiatrists and psychologists agreed that such specialized care is almost nonexistent.

Drugs are used to keep patients subdued. The worst cases are kept in restraining straps. And state officials compound the crisis by dumping the elderly out of mental hospitals into private nursing homes.

The most common problem is senility, better defined in medical terms as "chronic brain syndrome." It comes with hardening of the arteries, starving the brain for blood, or with the sudden blockage of a stroke. It leaves the mind fuzzy, confused, blank. Patients forget how to dress themselves, how to go to the bathroom.

George Lewis says he has been in a nursing home five weeks. Records show it has been five years.

For another Detroit nursing home patient, Miss Viola Cook, the records read almost 50 years—in a mental institution.

Miss Cook was a young woman in 1920 when committed to a Michigan state hospital because of confusion, delusions and what the doctors listed as "bizarre behavior." Her medical records reported no significant progress. Yet she was released this spring to be sent to a nursing home.

Now Miss Cook, 72, is kept tied with a cloth strap in her ward chair, unaware of the world around her, uttering as her hands knit with nothing in them.

Under Michigan's release program, she is considered in "convalescent status."

Moving patients out of the overcrowded state mental hospitals into nursing homes—where the federal government helps pay the bill—is routine across the nation.

Georgia has discharged approximately 2,600 mental patients into nursing homes over the past five years. North Carolina has shifted about 1,700. An Ohio official flatly denied the practice, yet public testimony disclosed the recent transfer of 300 out of a single state hospital.

Dr. Goldfarb criticized such transfers and said most are unjustified. He added, "There is a danger that nursing homes, because they lack medical tradition and psychiatric supervision, will degenerate into snake pits."

As a substitute for psychiatrists, nursing homes turn to drug and restraining straps.

In the back ward of a rural southern Indiana nursing home, more than a dozen patients sit strapped into chairs. The administrator complains she has no choice—the state hospitals won't take the patients, and there is no place else for them to go.

Doctor's orders are generally required by state regulations for physical restraint. But checks of medical records showed this is loosely enforced.

The strapping or restraint can range from modern, dignified chair devices to a bed sheet for a Minneapolis patient, a strip of cloth in Detroit, an automatic dosage of tranquilizing drugs for everyone in a Los Angeles home.

In these situations—when the mentally ill are mingled among other patients, with callous government indifference to the problem, when restraint is used as the cornerstone of care—a nursing home can turn into a house of horror.

A woman in a Minneapolis suburb remembers with vivid pain what happened when she took her mother, who had suffered a stroke, to a nursing home and returned the next morning to find her tied, without clothes, in bed in the midst of her own wastes. "I will never forget that sight," the woman wrote. "It's seared into my memory, seeing her struggling to free herself, crying out for some to help her. 'She clung to me and cried like a child over and over again. 'Thank God you've come, thank God you've come.'"

The Circleville Herald

Government Slates Drive Against Cut-Rate Air Travel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is preparing a move against airlines that violate rules governing cut-rate charter air travel.

The Civil Aeronautics Board soon will resume hearings in California on reports of mass illegal flights to Europe originating in that state.

And the CAB's enforcement bureau says it probably will file a number of formal complaints against alleged violators this fall.

Those lines found in violation are subject to fines and even service suspensions if it is proven they have sold charter seats at rates up to 50 per cent cheaper than scheduled flights to nonmembers of the chartering group, or to groups organized solely for the purpose of flying cheap.

CAB member John G. Adams warned the supplemental airlines last spring the board had heard rumors of as many as 300 extra-legal charter flights to Europe from California over the summer.

Adams advised the airlines to police the charters themselves, rather than leaving the matter to the federal government—and subjecting themselves to possible CAB action.

In some cases the airlines canceled charter flights after the CAB notified them of complaints. In other instances, the airlines acted on their own.

In still other cases, the CAB rejected last-minute appeals from airlines for special exemption to fly charters admittedly illegal. In rare circumstances the Board permitted such flights rather than subject the charter group members to last-minute disruption of long-planned vacations.

The Order of Ahepa, an organization of persons of Greek descent, canceled 18 charter flights from New York to Athens and back, and 74 group flights over the same route, after discovering that its travel agent had sold many of the seats to nonmembers. Ahepa estimated its loss at more than $50,000.

2 Springfield Residents On Death List

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Foster Compton and his wife, Betty, of Springfield, Ohio, have been added to the list of confirmed dead in the crash Sunday of a Mexicana Airlines jet near Mexico City international airport.

That brings to three the number of Ohioans known to have died in the accident. Another is missing and four survived, although injured.

Twenty-eight of the plane's 118 passengers, including the crew, are known to have perished in the crash.

Dr. William DiPalma, a chiropractor in the Cleveland suburb of Wickliffe, was killed. His wife, Phloema, still is listed as missing.

Survivors, who are confined in the American-British Candler Hospital, are Olav Danielson of Gates Mills, Albert French and Ralph Hutchins, both of Piqua, and Anthony Wibben of Cincinnati.

Danielson was listed in very serious condition; French and Hutchins, executive of the French Oil Machinery Co. in Piqua, both were reported fair, and Wibben was listed in satisfactory condition.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It may not be long before some television viewers hunger for the old-fashioned phony violence of Wild West shoot-outs and the faked fights of private eyes. This year, TV violence and tragedy hits closer to home, with sickness, physical handicaps, plane crashes as the base of dramatic conflict.

The TV doctors are making their initial housecalls. "Marcus Welby, M.D." dropped by, via ABC, Tuesday night with a story about a pretty young school teacher dying of brain cancer. Dr. Welby—Robert Young—is a kindly, wise general practitioner. He has a young, intense assistant—James Brolin—who makes house calls on a motorcycle. They discussed symptoms a bit in the first show but mostly the young doctor was getting himself emotionally involved with the teacher. The touchy question of whether to tell a patient he is dying was handled as if it were not a debatable point—the girl was told as she was coming out of the anesthetic of her operation.

The first program of another doctors' series, "Medical Center," will be broadcast by CBS tonight. It is the story of a determined doctor trying to persuade an ailing athlete to submit to the surgery he needs.

The CBS series premiere, seen in a preview, is hospital-oriented and Chad Everett, as the young surgeon, is as dedicated as Ben Casey. The story centers on the university's football star refusing medical attention because it might interfere with his rich future in pro ball.

Dr. Gannon suspects—more outlining of symptoms—a tumor but only manages to get his man on the operating table in the nick of time.

A pleasant surprise is the engaging performance by football star O.J. Simpson.

It will be interesting to see if, in weeks to come, the public finds these dramatic excursion into human misery gripping entertainment. Both shows were well produced and sympathetically acted.

Plane crashes promise to be handy dramatic devices. "The New People" started Monday night with one, and a crack-up was the foundation of the plot Tuesday of the first show in ABC's new "Movie of the Week" series. "Seven in Darkness" had a group of blind persons surviving the crash and

Armco To Close 8 Old Furnaces In Kentucky

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) —The Armco Steel Corporation has announced that eight open-hearth furnaces at the company's Ashland Works will be phased out of operation Sept. 30.

Company officials said Monday that the principal reason the furnaces are being shut-down is because of the higher production cost in the furnaces than in the new basic oxygen furnace.

Harry B. Nicholson Sr., general works manager at the plant here, said a construction program costing $3.8 million is under way at the basic oxygen shop to increase the capacity of the unit from 136,000 tons per month to 168,000.

Nicholson went on to say that special consideration will be given to employees affected by the open-hearth shutdown. He said they may take their options of retiring or of moving into other departments.

Bankrupt Man Stays In House

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Charles Steen, who made a fortune in Utah uranium mining, can stay in his $1.35 million Nevada home while trying to pay his debts.

A bankruptcy referee postponed Monday an earlier order to evict Steen while federal court considers a Steen appeal on a plan to pay his debts. Steen claimed a man's home "should be the last property that is sold under any bankruptcy."

Company officials said Monday that the principal reason the furnaces are being shut-down is because of the higher production cost in the furnaces than in the new basic oxygen furnace.

Harry B. Nicholson Sr., general works manager at the plant here, said a construction program costing $3.8 million is under way at the basic oxygen shop to increase the capacity of the unit from 136,000 tons per month to 168,000.

Nicholson went on to say that special consideration will be given to employees affected by the open-hearth shutdown. He said they may take their options of retiring or of moving into other departments.

Bankrupt Man Stays In House

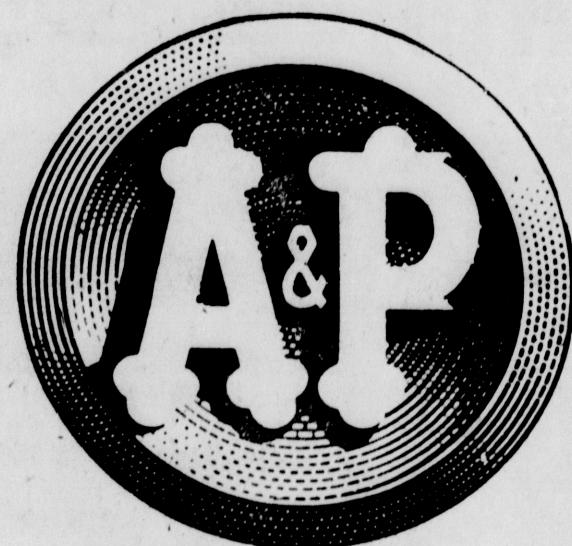

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Charles Steen, who made a fortune in Utah uranium mining, can stay in his $1.35 million Nevada home while trying to pay his debts.

A bankruptcy referee postponed Monday an earlier order to evict Steen while federal court considers a Steen appeal on a plan to pay his debts. Steen claimed a man's home "should be the last property that is sold under any bankruptcy."

SLATCREEK VALLEY GRANGE

"Open the Door" was the theme for the Sept. 16 meeting of Slatcreek Valley Grange.

To begin the program, Paul Dunkle, lecturer, referred to the challenging statement by the State Master James Ross — "If our farms and rural communities are to prosper and grow, a strong family organization such as the Grange can be a most important part."

This was followed by citation of the 1969-70 theme for Ohio State Grange endeavors — "The Grange Opens Wide the Door to Rural America, Urban Communities, Respect for Law, and Spiritual Stimulation."

The songs sung by the group were "Who Will Reap" and "Count Your Blessings." A quiz helped review grange performance. Details were given for the new curriculum for lecturer cooperation in planning for subordinate, pomona, district and state activities.

To conclude the program, Dunkle cited excerpts from "The Dimensions of Freedom," an article in the September "Ohio Grange." The special thought or emphasis was that total freedom, God's gift to us, can be a part of the world only when it becomes a reality for all people.

Communications were read from Mrs. Roy Fraunfelter and Mrs. Turney Pontius in appreciation for being remembered while in the hospital.

Mrs. Fred DeLong was re-appointed to serve as chairman of committee on women's activities. Mrs. Randolph Wolfe and Mrs. Leora Sayre will continue as co-chairmen of hospitality committee. Joyce DeLong was appointed as youth chairman.

The master, Francis Fruanfelter, gave details of a cook book project which could be arranged.

Mrs. DeLong reminded members to be planning ahead for the home economics contests.

In behalf of County Grange Youth, Paul Dunkle thanked all for cooperating for the recent royalty pageant. As deputy master he reviewed upcoming events as related to officer installation and conferences.

A decision was made to contribute to the flower fund for state grange in October.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maxson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Maxson.

U.S. Seeks New Forest Boundaries

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—The U.S. Wildlife Service is seeking local government approval to shift boundaries of some national forest areas in southern Ohio.

Wayne Ash, forest ranger in charge of land acquisition, outlined the plan to Ross County Commissioners. He said it would leave three national forest areas in this area of the state. The areas were set by Congress in 1930 and 1931 and Ash said legislation would be needed to change the boundaries.

The three major areas left if the plan is approved would be near Marietta, near Athens and in Lawrence and Gallia counties.

Areas now including parts of Ross, Vinton, Athens and Pike Counties would be changed to purchase status and eventually phased out.

Dayton Newspaper Strike Talks Held

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Negotiators in Dayton's month-long newspaper strike met for five hours Tuesday, the longest period so far, and afterward reported some progress in the talks.

Federal mediator Wesley Wesley Vanover said that for the first time since the strike began Aug. 22 progress was made in contract bargaining with printers, who shut down the morning Journal-Herald and afternoon Daily News. Another meeting was called for Thursday morning.

3 Prisoners Recaptured At Lancaster

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Shots rang out in the hallways of the Fairfield County Courthouse but no one was hurt Tuesday as three young prisoners bolted from custody.

The chase ended when two of the escapees were apprehended two blocks away and a third was found hiding on the third floor of the courthouse.

Chief Deputy Robert Andrus said the three, identified as Vincent Young, 19, Alvan Williams, 18, and Brazil Johnson, 21, fled from a court bailiff shortly after their arraignment on breaking and entering charges.

Deputy Michael Norris fired two shots at the fleeing trio inside the building and three more shots outside.

Norris and Alan Hummel chased and captured two of the escapees in an alley two blocks away.

Andrus found the third hiding in the courthouse.

Racial Outbreak Cancels Dance At Troy School

TROY, Ohio (AP)—A dispute over the lack of a Negro on the Troy High School homecoming court has resulted in cancellation of the school's homecoming dance.

The action was announced by the board of education Tuesday following a meeting with Negro students and teachers. During the meeting, the board rejected six demands by the Negroes, including one for black representation on the homecoming court.

A racial disturbance Monday forced suspension of classes Tuesday at the Miami County school. Normal operations were expected to be resumed today.

About 3 per cent of the school's 1,300 students are Negro.

ANOTHER REPORT that Red China's revered leader, Mao Tse-tung (above), is ailing, has suffered a stroke, is circulating and if he does not make a public appearance Sept. 27, the 20th anniversary of the Chinese Revolution, or on Oct. 1, the day of celebrations, a change in leadership seems at hand. Mao is 76 years old.

MISS BETH ROOKER

Beth Rooker Is Teenage Semifinalist

Beth Rooker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Rooker of Route 4, has been chosen as a semifinalist in the Miss Teenage America Contest in Columbus. Judging at all levels of Miss Teenage America competition is based on intelligence, talent, poise and appearance.

Beth is enrolled as a junior in Logan Elm High School. She is secretary of her class, President of the Tri-Hi-Y, a member of the SKANDA staff, a member of the choir and an honor roll student. Among her favorite subjects are English, French and history.

She is active in the Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union where she is assistant secretary for the Sunday school, treasurer for the youth organization and pianist for the church choir.

Beth's hobbies include reading, traveling and writing letters. She has a pen pal in Dominica, the island in the West Indies where she was born.

Rain, Frost Mark U.S. Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers dampened parts of the East and South today while frost whitened sections of the northern Great Lakes region.

Cool air rolling across the Pacific Northwest also scattered rain over that region.

Heavy rain soaked some Florida communities during the night, but in general the new downpours spared panhandle areas swamped by 18 to 23 inches in four days since Saturday. Almost 2 inches fell at Co-coa before daybreak.

Shower activity in the East and South ranged along a cool front from Texas to the lower Great Lakes.

The mercury slid into the 40s and low 50s over much of the midcontinent. Similarly crisp temperatures prevailed in the Northwest and Northeast. Genuinely hot weather was scarce overnight.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 32 at Hibbing, Minn., to 82 at Blythe Calif.

Gromyko, Rogers Meet Inconclusive

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers' first meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko gave the American some encouragement about possibilities for negotiations with the Russians.

"Progress" and "movement" are not words Rogers would now use to describe the state of the Nixon administration's efforts to make headway with the Soviets on the Middle East and some other outstanding issues.

But the secretary expects Moscow's answer on starting missile curbs will be "yes". He thinks the Soviets are interested in moving the Middle East discussions ahead, and he found Gromyko's discourse free of diatribe even amid disagreement.

This picture of Rogers' three-hour dinner meeting with Gromyko Monday night was given by U.S. officials who spoke to newsmen under rules barring direct quotation.

The officials added this caution: Even if negotiations with the Soviets appear possible on some matters, it remains to be seen whether they will be successful.

If Gromyko's return dinner for Rogers Friday follows Monday night's pattern, it is possible that the Soviet leader will be invited to see President Nixon before Gromyko's return to Moscow, expected about Oct. 1. The Soviet minister is here for the U.N. General Assembly's opening weeks, as Rogers is.

See Friday Special Day For Orphan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Friday could be a very special day for Soonie, a Korean orphan.

On Friday, Soonie will be 13 years old. And, with a little luck, by that time her new parents, Sen. and Mrs. Stephen M. Young of Ohio, could have her final adoption papers in hand.

An aide in the senator's office said Tuesday that the formal adoption papers are expected shortly.

The Youngs appeared in probate court in Cleveland Aug. 27 to apply for the final papers. Adoption will come after a routine check.

The Youngs became interested in Soonie when they met her on a trip to Korea in 1965. For a time they gave her financial aid and in 1967 brought her to the United States.

Young, a onetime widower, and the present Mrs. Young have no children from their marriage.

Set Final Hearing On Train Shutdown

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission was to hold here today the final hearing on proposed discontinuance of the "James Whitcomb Riley" the last daily passenger train between here and Chicago.

An ICC representative will listen to testimony at an open hearing from persons wanting to comment about operation of the Penn Central Co. train.

Moslem Leaders Denounce Israel

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The leaders of 26 Moslem nations end their first summit meeting today with a series of resolutions expected to denounce Israel and demand that it give up all occupied Arab territory.

The resolutions were foreshadowed by a conference agenda unanimously adopted Tuesday night. For the first time many of the non-Arab Moslem countries gave explicit support to the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi of Iran, Turkish Foreign Minister Ihsan Sabri Caglayangil and several other non-Arab Moslem leaders whose governments maintain relations with Israel approved the Algerian-sponsored agenda.

The resolutions were expected to have a profound effect throughout the Islamic world, which stretches across 10,000 miles of the Eastern Hemisphere from Indonesia to Senegal, with a population exceeding 500 million.

The agenda was a triumph for the Arab leaders taking part in the parley convened originally only to condemn the fire in the Al Aksah mosque in Jerusalem and to denounce Israel's annexation of the Arab sector of Jerusalem.

The 11-nation ministerial steering committee went into a night session to draft the conference resolutions following approval of the agenda in a five-hour debate. Algerian Foreign Minister Abdulaziz Bouteflika took the leading role in persuading the committee to adopt an agenda going far beyond the original objectives of the conference.

The seven-point agenda in effect provided the guideline for the resolutions being drafted by the committee for approval at the final plenary session of the delegation chiefs.

The agenda's first item was "the disaster of arson" in the Al Aksah mosque, Islam's third holiest shrine. It also dealt with the situation in Jerusalem in general, and with the withdrawal of Israeli forces from all Arab territories.

The most sweeping agenda item, point four, called for "the full restitution of the despoiled rights of the people of Palestine and full backing of the Islamic peoples for the Palestine struggle for national liberation."

However, the conference did not go along with Khalifa el Telisi, delegate of the new revolutionary regime in Libya, who demanded that all the non-Arab Moslem countries immediately break all ties with Israel.

But it granted observer status to Khalid Abou Khatib, member of the executive committee of the Palestine Liberation Organization, who demanded that all Islamic countries join the Arab boycott against Israel. Khatib also claimed the right of the PLO to set up offices in all Moslem countries and to recruit volunteers in case they are needed in the struggle against what he called "imperialism's Zionist base" in Palestine.

Stephen F. Yakunich, 24, immediately filed a motion for leave to appeal. He currently is on unpaid leave from the Army pending settlement of the court action.

Yakunich testified at a hearing Tuesday that he paid $2 last May to become a minister of the Universal Life Church and that the church granted him a charter to establish a branch in Canton.

Group Plans To Buy Bank

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Directors of First Banc Group of Ohio, Inc., agreed today to acquire the outstanding shares of the Barnitz Bank in Middletown, Ohio.

First Banc President John G. McCoy said shareholders of the Barnitz Bank will be asked to approve the exchange of 100,000 shares of First Banc Group stock for the 36,000 outstanding shares of Barnitz stock.

The action also is subject to approval of federal regulatory agencies.

The Barnitz Bank, which operates three offices in Butler County, reported mid-year resources of $39.4 million.

First Banc Group, formed in 1968, reported mid-year resources of its affiliate banks of $461.7 million. Its affiliates include the City National Bank and Trust Co. of Columbus, with 18 offices in Franklin County, and the Farmers Savings and Trust Co. of Mansfield, with six offices in Richland County.

Grant Approved

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A $10 million grant has been approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for the building of 500 more housing units for low-income families by the Akron Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Moslem Leaders Denounce Israel

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The leaders of 26 Moslem nations end their first summit meeting today with a series of resolutions expected to denounce Israel and demand that it give up all occupied Arab territory.

The resolutions were foreshadowed by a conference agenda unanimously adopted Tuesday night. For the first time many of the non-Arab Moslem countries gave explicit support to the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi of Iran, Turkish Foreign Minister Ihsan Sabri Caglayan and several other non-Arab Moslem leaders whose governments maintain relations with Israel approved the Algerian-sponsored agenda.

The resolutions were expected to have a profound effect throughout the Islamic world, which stretches across 10,000 miles of the Eastern Hemisphere from Indonesia to Senegal, with a population exceeding 500 million.

The agenda was a triumph for the Arab leaders taking part in the parley convened originally only to condemn the fire in the Al Aksah mosque in Jerusalem and to denounce Israel's annexation of the Arab sector of Jerusalem.

The 11-nation ministerial steering committee went into a night session to draft the conference resolutions following approval of the agenda in a five-hour debate.

Algerian Foreign Minister Abdulaziz Bouteflika took the leading role in persuading the committee to adopt an agenda going far beyond the original objectives of the conference.

The seven-point agenda in effect provided the guideline for the resolutions being drafted by the committee for approval at the final plenary session of the delegation chiefs.

The agenda's first item was "the disaster of arson" in the Al Aksah mosque, Islam's third holiest shrine.

It also dealt with the situation in Jerusalem in general, and with the withdrawal of Israeli forces from all Arab territories.

The most sweeping agenda item, point four, called for "the full restitution of the despoiled rights of the people of Palestine and full backing of the Islamic peoples for the Palestine struggle for national liberation."

However, the conference did not go along with Khalifa el Telisi, delegate of the new revolutionary regime in Libya, who demanded that all the non-Arab Moslem countries immediately break all ties with Israel.

But it granted observer status to Khalid Abou Khatib, member of the executive committee of the Palestine Liberation Organization, who demanded that all Islamic countries join the Arab boycott against Israel. Khatib also claimed the right of the PLO to set up offices in all Moslem countries and to recruit volunteers in case they are needed in the struggle against what he called "imperialism's Zionist base" in Palestine.

'Minister' Fights Army Induction

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Canton man who claimed that his induction into the army last week was illegal because of his ministerial status was denied a writ of habeas corpus Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Ben C. Green.

Stephen F. Yakunich, 24, immediately filed a motion for leave to appeal. He currently is on unpaid leave from the Army pending settlement of the court action.

Yakunich testified at a hearing Tuesday that he paid $2 last May to become a minister of the Universal Life Church and that the church granted him a charter to establish a branch in Canton.

Padres Knock Giants Out Of NL Lead, 5-4

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants left Ollie Brown off their protected list for last year's National League expansion draft and the San Diego Padres promptly picked him No. 1. It took almost all season, but Brown has finally made the Giants No. 2.

It all came about in the ninth inning of Tuesday night's game in San Diego. Roberto Pena singled with one out and pinch runner Ron Slocum raced to second on reliever Frank Linzy's wild pitch. Up stepped Brown and singled to center, driving in Slocum and giving the Padres a 5-4 victory that knocked the Giants out of first place in the NL West.

The Giants fell one-half game and three percentage points behind Atlanta, which trounced Houston 10-2, eliminating the Astros from the race. Cincinnati remained in contention three games out by sweeping a doubleheader from Los Angeles 6-3 and 5-2, dropping the Dodgers 5½ games off the pace and virtually ending their flag hopes.

The amazing New York Mets clinched a tie for the title in the NL East, edging Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals 2-2 in 11 innings. That put them six games ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who lost to Montreal 7-3. Both teams have six games remaining. Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 4-3 in the other NL game.

The game-winning hit was sweet revenge for Brown, touted as a coming star when he played with the Giants in 1966 and 1967.

A year ago, Brown had a good spring but wound up sitting on the bench while Jesus Alou roamed the San Francisco outfield.

"I thought of my showing in 1967 (13 homers, 53 RBI and a .267 average) that I'd get a good shot to start with the Giants, but it didn't work out that way.

"Being drafted was a whole new start for me. I'm glad to be with San Diego where I have a chance to play every day.

"I went to the Giants' camp in 1968 and led the club in hitting and was second in home runs and RBIs, playing regularly throughout the spring exhibition games. The newspapermen were writing I'd be in the starting line-up. I didn't start. It was disappointing."

Rookie Clay Kirby, staked to a 4-0 lead in the first inning, checked the Giants on one run and two hits into the seventh. But the Giants picked up two runs in the seventh on three walks, a hit batsman and a sacrifice fly and tied it in the eighth on Dave Marshall's forceout with the bases loaded.

They had the potential lead run thrown out at the plate in the ninth. With two out, Tito Fuentes singled and Ron Hunt doubled, but a nifty relay from left fielder Ivan Murrell to shortstop Francisco Libran to catcher Chris Cannizzaro nailed Fuentes at the plate.

Ohio Football Big Business, Cloud Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud confirmed today what most people already know—college football in Ohio is a big business.

Cloud, in a survey just completed, said football at Ohio's 10 state universities last year produced revenues of nearly $3 million.

This represents a 34.3 per cent increase over revenues of 1963, the state auditor said. Football revenues in 1968 reached $2,986,383 compared to $2,223,029 in 1963.

The figures included home and away game receipts plus concession and radio-TV revenues for home games for the state affiliated schools.

The nation's top-ranked team, Ohio State, which has led the nation in attendance in 17 of the last 18 years, had total receipts of nearly $2 million last season.

Cloud, in a breakdown of his revenues report, said Ohio State had total revenues of $1,948,879 for all games, including $55,772 received from concessions and $182,399 from radio and television rights.

In 1963, OSU reported total revenues of $1,586,022. Last year, for six home contests, Ohio State drew 448,325 in paid admissions.

Bowling Green, $162,163, 35-926; Akron, $51,195, 42,520; Kent State, $90,452, 42,295; Miami $145,915, 52,492; Ohio University $65,130, 76,442; Toledo, $124,379, 34,912; Youngstown, $34,793, 11,535; Cincinnati, $259,700, 65,092; Central State, $3,777.

Prognosticator Picks Winners In Weekend Action

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Since this corner correctly forecast that Rutgers would beat Princeton in the first college football game back on Nov. 6, 1869, it seems appropriate that this week's guessing game should lead off with those two teams in the sport's centennial game.

The 100th anniversary meeting takes place Saturday in New Brunswick, N.J., and about the only sure thing is that the score won't be 6-4 like the original.

Nor will the contest end in a tie. None of the previous 99 meetings has—Princeton holds a 50-9 bulge—and Rutgers, with 154 games, and Princeton, at 129, have the second and third longest no-tie streaks in the country, behind Villanova's 157.

Choosing a winner boils down to which team can put more points on the board in a high-scoring game. Rutgers appears to have some advantages—home field, a game (44-22 over Lafayette) under its belt, spring practice, Princeton, meanwhile, is breaking in a new coach—Jake McCandless—who switched from the traditional single wing to a multiple offense despite Princeton's shortest preseason camp in two decades.

The pick accordingly is—Rutgers.

Hopefully, that will turn out better than last week's special, which had Virginia Tech upsetting Alabama, only to see the Crimson Tide pull out a 17-13 squeaker.

This time, the No. 1 team in the country is in action. Ohio State's Buckeyes, defending national champions and Rose Bowl winners over Southern California, swing into action against Texas Christian at Columbus, Ohio.

"It will be a high-scoring game," predicts Coach Woody Hayes, who has 18 of 22 starters back in harness. "I think we can go into the game with everybody ready to go."

Ohio State it is.

PENN STATE over COLORADO—Colorado Coach Eddie Crowder says his quarterback, Bob Anderson, is the Big Eight's top contender for the Heisman Trophy. Even Mr. Heisman himself wouldn't help against second-ranked Penn State.

ARKANSAS over TULSA—More bad news for Tulsa's new coach Vince Carollot.

TEXAS over TEXAS TECH—Tech usually upsets one Southwest Conference power each year. Texas isn't it.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA over NORTHWESTERN—Who needs O. J.—Simpson—When you've got J. J.—Jimmy Jones.

OKLAHOMA over PITT—More bad news for Pitt's new coach Carl De Pasqua.

GEORGIA over CLEMSON—Mike Cavan passes, Bruce Kemp runs.

MISSISSIPPI over KENTUCKY—More bad news for Kentucky's new coach Johnny Ray.

PURDUE over NOTRE DAME—Don't they always Or does it only seem that way?

INDIANA over CALIFORNIA—California comes to Indiana in September but Indiana wants to go to California—the Rose Bowl—in January.

Westfall, Teays Valley Logan Elm Set For Tilts

Logan Elm hosts Big Walnut in the only high school football game to be played in Pickaway County Friday.

Westfall travels to Adena at Frankfort for a Scioto Valley Conference game and Teays Valley is at Hamilton Twp. in Metropolitan League action.

For Teays Valley, it is the first league game. The Vikings tuned up for the title chase with a 2-1 record, defeating Logan Elm and Circleville.

The Vikings posted a 37-14 win over the Tigers. Hamilton also defeated the Red and Black, by a score of 22-14.

TEAYS Valley's defense will have to stop the running of Jim

Gorezyca and Gary Topping.

Gorezyca is a big fullback who riddled the Circleville line for a total of 89 yards rushing in 21 carries. He was the workhorse of the Hamilton backfield. Topping showed good speed and elusiveness when called on to carry the ball by sophomore quarterback Greg Lafferty.

Physically, Teays Valley is ready for the Rangers. Coach Dick Kidwell feels his Vikings have a good chance in the league race this year, but he also believes the Metropolitan League has its best balance for several years. Hamilton's 2-1 record matches the Vikings.

Westfall coach Bill Vance

says that he knows probably more about the Adena Warriors club than any other football team he will play this year.

"They have a lot of size and a lot of speed. Their backs are bigger and faster than ours, but their line is about equal in size," Vance says.

According to scouting reports and films he has viewed, the Warriors have no apparent weak spots on offense along the line, although he believes he has spotted a defensive weakness.

THE Mustangs have been slowed by injuries. Tim Dewey and Marlin Howard, the two big tackles, have both been watching practice sessions. However, Vance expects to start both of them Friday.

Nothing that he would like to install something new in the offense, he said "that you can't do much new with the boys watching from the sidelines."

The starting assignments for Westfall will be basically the same as they have been in past games this season, Vance noted.

"We feel we have a good chance to win the conference again. This could be a key game for us," the Westfall mentor commented, adding that attitude has been excellent this past week.

Logan Elm, riddled by injuries in key positions, hosts a class AA school Friday, in a game that was just scheduled a little over a week ago.

Big Walnut has a 42-0 win over Centerburn and a 20-0 win over Cardington. Logan Elm lost to the latter school, 13-0.

THE Logan Elm quarterback, Steve Curtis, sustained an injured shoulder against Teays Valley and is definitely ruled out of the game Friday. With Wurtie Teets converted from quarterback to halfback after the first game of the season, slowed by a bruised thigh muscle, a freshman, Tim Justice, is expected to start for Logan Elm.

In addition to Teets and Curtis, John Weaver, a halfback, is also on the doubtful list with an ankle injury. Sophomore Dean Godden may be inserted into the starting alignment Friday and is expected to see plenty of action.

End-linebacker Dan Ankrom is also injured and may not start Friday. Brad Barr, a sophomore, is expected to replace him on offense. Bob McAfee, a senior, will probably start at linebacker, although he has been used primarily at fullback and defensive tackle this year.

Kenny Short, another senior, has been converted from defensive tackle to defensive halfback to give that segment of the Braves' squad more maturity, Coach Mark Abright said.

Abright and his aide, Doyné Wiggins, are the only two members of the Braves' coaching staff and have no opportunity to scout opposing teams. However, Abright was able to obtain films of the Big Walnut squad in action.

"They look a lot like Teays Valley," the Braves Coach noted.

Friday is Parents' Night at Logan Elm.

Pete Rose Leads Reds Over Dodgers In Twinbill, 6-3, 5-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Banishing thoughts of topping the league in hitting again, Pete Rose stressed Tuesday night that he hopes his hot bat can help put the heat on second place San Francisco.

Rose went on a rampage against the Los Angeles Dodgers, rapping six hits in 10 at bats, including a home run, to pace Cincinnati to 6-3 and 5-2 victories in a twin-night bill.

"We're not out of this until we're mathematically eliminated," Rose commented about catching the Giants for the West Division crown.

"If we continue to win, I hope it will put more pressure on them."

The double triumphs, giving them four straight, pulled the Reds to within three games of league leading Atlanta, which moved into first place Tuesday night by dumping Houston, 10-2. San Francisco slipped to second, a half game out, after losing to San Diego, 5-4.

"I've been trying not to think about winning the batting title," Rose asserted. "Whenever I do, I try a little too hard."

Rose's performance lifted his average to .344, only two points behind leader Cleon Jones of New York, who is sidelined with an injury. Rose paced the majors last year with a .335 mark.

"I'm not worrying about Cleon Jones, whether he is going to get back into action again," Rose continued. "I'm worrying about Bill Singer, the Los Angeles pitcher tomorrow (Today). That is the important thing."

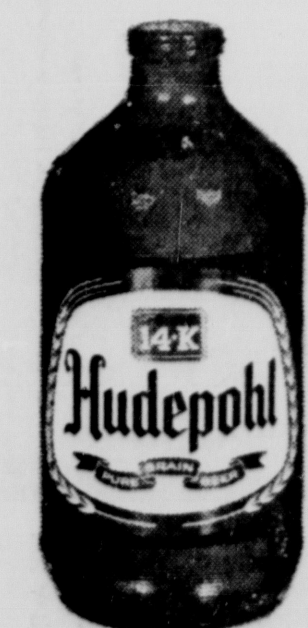

The loss was the Dodgers' sixth straight and virtually eliminated them from any hope of winning the division title. Manager Walter Alston was not available for comment after the games.

They were half a game behind Cincinnati entering the night. Cincinnati edged the Dodgers 2-1 Monday night with Rose and Tommy Helms delivering key hits.

Meet The Tigers

Bill Keener (84) and Greg White (90) are two ends for the Tiger football team. One of the bigger boys on the squad, White is a 6-foot-5 200-pound defensive end. Keener is a 145-pound 6-foot end. Keener is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harr, 710 Northridge Road. White is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, N. Court St.

The Orioles solved the veteran left-hander for only three hits Tuesday night as the lowly Cleveland Indians pulled out a 3-1 victory that slowed Baltimore's sizzling drive toward a league record for season victories.

McDowell, who achieved a personal high with his 18th victory against 14 losses, struck out six and didn't walk a batter in holding the Orioles' season triumph total to 106.

The Orioles, who have eight games left, are shooting for the record of 111 set by the 1954 Indians.

In other games, Carl Yastrzemski slammed a pair of homers in helping Boston to an 8-3 victory over the New York Yankees, Minnesota checked Kansas City 6-2, California edged Seattle 5-4 and Oakland took a doubleheader from Chicago, 4-3 and 5-3. Washington's game at Detroit was rained out.

McDowell's only trouble with the Orioles came from Frank Robinson, who smashed a solo

Joe Pepitone homered for the Yankees, his 29th.

Rich Reese knocked in three runs with two singles in helping the Twins past Kansas City. His sixth-inning single snapped a 2-2 tie.

A two-run single by pinch hitter Bubba Morton capped a three-run rally in the sixth that gave California its victory over Seattle.

Padres Knock Giants Out Of NL Lead, 5-4

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants left list for last year's National League expansion draft and the San Diego Padres promptly picked him No. 1. It took almost all season, but Brown has finally made the Giants No. 2.

It all came about in the ninth inning of Tuesday night's game in San Diego. Roberto Pena singled with one out and pinch runner Ron Slocum raced to second on reliever Frank Linzy's wild pitch. Up stepped Brown and singled to center, driving in Slocum and giving the Padres a 5-4 victory that knocked the Giants out of first place in the NL West.

The Giants fell one-half game and three percentage points behind Atlanta, which trounced Houston 10-2, eliminating the Astros from the race. Cincinnati remained in contention three games out by sweeping a doubleheader from Los Angeles 6-3 and 5-2, dropping the Dodgers 5½ games off the pace and virtually ending their flag hopes.

The amazing New York Mets clinched a tie for the title in the NL East, edging Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals 2-2 in 11 innings. That put them six games ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who lost to Montreal 7-3. Both teams have six games remaining. Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 4-3 in the other NL game.

The game-winning hit was sweet revenge for Brown, touted as a coming star when he played with the Giants in 1966 and 1967.

A year ago, Brown had a good spring but wound up sitting on the bench while Jesus Alou roamed the San Francisco outfield.

"I thought of my showing in 1967 (13 homers, 53 RBI and a .267 average) that I'd get a good shot to start with the Giants, but it didn't work out that way.

"Being drafted was a whole new start for me. I'm glad to be with San Diego where I have a chance to play every day.

"I went to the Giants' camp in 1968 and led the club in hitting and was second in home runs and RBIs, playing regularly throughout the spring exhibition games. The newspapermen were writing I'd be in the starting line-up. I didn't start. It was disappointing."

Rookie Clay Kirby, staked to a 4-0 lead in the first inning, checked the Giants on one run and two hits into the seventh. But the Giants picked up two runs in the seventh on three walks, a hit batsman and a sacrifice fly and tied it in the eighth on Dave Marshall's forceout with the bases loaded.

They had the potential lead run thrown out at the plate in the ninth. With two out, Tito Fuentes singled and Ron Hunt doubled, but a nifty relay from left fielder Ivan Murrell to shortstop Francisco Libran to catcher Chris Cannizzaro nailed Fuentes at the plate.

Ohio Football Big Business, Cloud Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud confirmed today what most people already know—college football in Ohio is a big business.

Cloud, in a survey just completed, said football at Ohio's 10 state universities last year produced revenues of nearly $3 million.

This represents a 34.3 per cent increase over revenues of 1963, the state auditor said. Football revenues in 1968 reached $2,986,383 compared to $2,223,029 in 1963.

The figures included home and away game receipts plus concession and radio-TV revenues for home games for the state affiliated schools.

The nation's top-ranked team, Ohio State, which has led the nation in attendance in 17 of the last 18 years, had total receipts of nearly $2 million last season.

Cloud, in a breakdown of his revenues report, said Ohio State had total revenues of $1,948,879 for all games, including $55,772 received from concessions and $182,399 from radio and television rights.

In 1963, OSU reported total revenues of $1,586,022. Last year, for six home contests, Ohio State drew 448,325 in paid admissions.

Bowling Green, $162,163, 35-926; Akron, $51,195, 42,520; Kent State, $90,452, 42,295; Miami $145,915, 52,492; Ohio University $65,130, 76,442; Toledo, $121,579, 34,912; Youngstown, $34,793, 11,535; Cincinnati, $259,700, 65,092; Central State, $3,777.

Prognosticator Picks Winners In Weekend Action

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Since this corner correctly forecast that Rutgers would beat Princeton in the first college football game back on Nov. 6, 1869, it seems appropriate that this week's guessing game should lead off with those two teams in the sport's centennial game.

The 100th anniversary meeting takes place Saturday in New Brunswick, N.J., and about the only sure thing is that the score won't be 6-4 like the original.

Nor will the contest end in a tie. None of the previous 99 meetings has—Princeton holds a 50-9 bulge—and Rutgers, with 154 games, and Princeton, at 129, have the second and third longest active streaks in the country, behind Villanova's 157.

Choosing a winner boils down to which team can put more points on the board in a high-scoring game. Rutgers appears to have some advantages—home field, a game (44-22 over Lafayette) under its belt, spring practice, Princeton, meanwhile, is breaking in a new coach—Jake McCanless—who switched from the traditional single wing to a multiple offense despite Princeton's shortest pre-season camp in two decades.

The pick accordingly is—Rutgers.

Hopefully, that will turn out better than last week's special, which had Virginia Tech upsetting Alabama, only to see the Crimson Tide pull out a 17-13 squeaker.

This time, the No. 1 team in the country is in action. Ohio State's Buckeyes, defending national champions and Rose Bowl winners over Southern California, swing into action against Texas Christian at Columbus, Ohio.

"It will be a high-scoring game," predicts Coach Woody Hayes, who has 18 of 22 starters back in harness. "I think we can go into the game with everybody ready to go."

Ohio State it is.

PENN STATE over COLORADO—Colorado Coach Eddie Crowder says his quarterback, Bob Anderson, is the Big Eight's top contender for the Heisman Trophy. Even Mr. Heisman himself wouldn't help against second-ranked Penn State.

ARKANSAS over TULSA—More bad news for Tulsa's new coach Vince Carollot.

TEXAS over TEXAS TECH—Tech usually upsets one Southwest Conference power each year. Texas isn't it.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA over NORTHWESTERN—Who needs O. J.—Simpson—When you've got J. J.—Jimmy Jones.

OKLAHOMA over PITT—More bad news for Pitt's new coach Carl De Pasqua.

GEORGIA over CLEMSON—Mike Cavan passes, Bruce Kemp runs.

MISSISSIPPI over KENTUCKY—More bad news for Kentucky's new coach Johnny Ray.

PURDUE over NOTRE DAME—Don't they always Or does it only seem that way?

INDIANA over CALIFORNIA—California comes to Indiana in September but Indiana wants to go to California—the Rose Bowl—in January.

Westfall, Teays Valley Logan Elm Set For Tilts

Logan Elm hosts Big Walnut in the only high school football game to be played in Pickaway County Friday.

Westfall travels to Adena at Frankfort for a Scioto Valley Conference game and Teays Valley is at Hamilton Twp. in Metropolitan League action.

For Teays Valley, it is the first league game. The Vikings tuned up for the title chase with a 2-1 record, defeating Logan Elm and Circleville.

The Vikings posted a 37-14 win over the Tigers. Hamilton also defeated the Red and Black, by a score of 22-14.

TEAYS Valley's defense will have to stop the running of Jim

Gorezyca and Gary Topping.

Gorezyca is a big fullback who riddled the Circleville line for a total of 89 yards rushing in 21 carries. He was the workhorse of the Hamilton backfield. Topping showed good speed and elusiveness when called on to carry the ball by sophomore quarterback Greg Lafferty.

Physically, Teays Valley is ready for the Rangers. Coach Dick Kidwell feels his Vikings have a good chance in the league race this year, but he also believes the Metropolitan League has its best balance for several years. Hamilton's 2-1 record matches the Vikings.

Westfall coach Bill Vance

says that he knows probably more about the Adena Warriors club than any other football team he will play this year.

"They have a lot of size and a lot of speed. Their backs are bigger and faster than ours, but their line is about equal in size," Vance says.

According to scouting reports and films he has viewed, the Warriors have no apparent weak spots on offense along the line, although he believes he has spotted a defensive weakness.

THE Mustangs have been slowed by injuries. Tim Dewey and Marlin Howard, the two big tackles, have both been watching practice sessions. However, Vance expects to start both of them Friday.

Noting that he would like to install something new in the offense, he said "that you can't do much new with the boys watching from the sidelines."

The starting assignments for Westfall will be basically the same as they have been in past games this season, Vance noted.

"We feel we have a good chance to win the conference again. This could be a key game for us," the Westfall mentor commented, adding that attitude has been excellent this past week.

Logan Elm, riddled by injuries in key positions, hosts a class AA school Friday, in a game that was just scheduled a little over a week ago.

Big Walnut has a 42-0 win over Centerburn and a 20-0 win over Cardington. Logan Elm lost to the latter school, 13-0.

THE Logan Elm quarterback, Steve Curtis, sustained an injured shoulder against Teays Valley and is definitely ruled out of the game Friday. With Wurtie Teets converted from quarterback to halfback after the first game of the season, slowed by a bruised thigh muscle, a freshman, Tim Justice, is pected to start for Logan Elm.

In addition to Teets and Curtis, John Weaver, a halfback, is also on the doubtful list with an ankle injury. Sophomore Dean Godden may be inserted into the starting alignment Friday and is expected to see plenty of action.

End-linebacker Dan Ankrom is also injured and may not start Friday. Brad Barr, a sophomore, is expected to replace him on offense. Bob McAfee, a senior, will probably start at linebacker, although he has been used primarily at fullback and defensive tackle this year.

Kenny Short, another senior, has been converted from defensive tackle to defensive halfback to give that segment of the Braves' squad more maturity, Coach Mark Abright said.

Abright and his aide, Doane Wiggins, are the only two members of the Braves' coaching staff and have no opportunity to scout opposing teams. However, Abright was able to obtain films of the Big Walnut squad in action.

"They look a lot like Teays Valley," the Braves Coach noted.

Friday is Parents' Night at Logan Elm.

Pete Rose Leads Reds Over Dodgers In Twinbill, 6-3, 5-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Banishing thoughts of topping the league in hitting again, Pete Rose stressed Tuesday night that he hopes his hot bat can help put the heat on second place San Francisco.

Rose went on a rampage against the Los Angeles Dodgers, rapping six hits in 10 at bats, including a home run, to pace Cincinnati to 6-3 and 5-2 victories in a two-night twin bill.

"We're not out of this until we're mathematically eliminated," Rose commented about catching the Giants for the West Division crown.

"If we continue to win, I hope it will put more pressure on them."

The double triumphs, giving them four straight, pulled the Reds to within three games of league leading Atlanta, which moved into first place Tuesday night by dumping Houston, 10-2. San Francisco slipped to second, a half game out, after losing to San Diego, 5-4.

"I've been trying not to think about winning the batting title," Rose asserted. "Whenever I do, I try a little too hard."

Rose's performance lifted his average to .344, only two points behind leader Cleon Jones of New York, who is sidelined with an injury. Rose paced the majors last year with a .335 mark.

"I'm not worrying about Cleon Jones, whether he is going to get back into action again," Rose continued. "I'm worrying about Bill Singer, the Los Angeles pitcher tomorrow (Today). That is the important thing."

The loss was the Dodgers' sixth straight and virtually eliminated them from any hope of winning the division title. Manager Walter Alston was not available for comment after the games.

They were half a game behind Cincinnati entering the night. Cincinnati edged the Dodgers 2-1 Monday night with Rose and Tommy Helms delivering key hits.

Meet The Tigers

Bill Keener (84) and Greg White (90) are two ends for the Tiger football team. One of the bigger boys on the squad, White is a 6-foot-5 200-pound defensive end. Keener is a 145-pound 6-foot end. Keener is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harr, 710 Northridge Road. White is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, N. Court St.

Lowly Indians Stun Orioles, 3-1

Bengals' Greg Cook Named Top AFL Offensive Player

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Greg Cook, the strapping young quarterback who holds the key to Cincinnati's American Football League future, is beginning to remind Bengals Coach Paul Brown of past glories.

"If he stays with it, I've got myself another Otto Graham," Brown said last Sunday after Cook passed for three touchdowns and scrambled for the fourth in the Bengals' 31-20 upset victory over San Diego.

Graham quarterbacked the Brown-coached Cleveland Browns to a string of championships in the old All-American Conference and the National Football League while Cook was growing up in Chillicothe, Ohio.

But today the 22-year-old rookie was named AFL Offensive Player of the Week by The Associated Press. Denver defensive end Rich Jackson was named Defensive Player of the Week Tuesday.

Cook, Cincinnati's No. 1 draft pick, fired scoring strikes of 78, 39 and nine yards against the Chargers, connecting on 14 of 22 pass attempts for a total of 292 yards. He also picked up 33 yards running, nine of them on an impromptu scoring jaunt when he found his receivers blanketed.

The 6-foot-3 signal-caller from the University of Cincinnati has paced the Bengals to two victories in two weeks and leads the AFL passing parade with a 58 per cent completion mark and 482 aerial yards.

"He just doesn't play like a rookie," said Brown. "He is not an ordinary young man. If I could use the word, he was fantastic."

Other offensive standouts last weekend included quarterback Pete Liske and running back Floyd Little of the Denver Broncos, who triggered a 21-19 triumph over New York; quarterback Len Dawson and ball-carrier Mike Garrett of Kansas City, who led the Chiefs past Boston 31-0; Oakland place kicker George Blanda, who beat Miami 20-17 with a field goal in the final seconds, and receiver Fred Biletnikoff of the Raiders, who caught nine passes for 132 yards and a touchdown.

"Music is the most important thing in my life," says Mike Reid. You'd have a hard time convincing the Navy football team.

Reid, a 6-foot-3, 240-pound defensive tackle for Penn State, played barely half of Saturday's 45-22 trouncing of Navy. What time he did play was spent in the Navy backfield.

The senior music major—he plays the piano and organ—from Altoona, Pa., was in on 12 tackles, seven of them unassisted and kept constant pressure on the passer. The defense held Navy to 45 yards on the ground.

For that performance, he was named The Associated Press' first College Lineman of the Week for 1969. In his first college game—against Maryland in 1966—he won the same honor.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A rookie and a veteran came in for accolades today as the Mid-American Conference back and lineman of the week.

Tony Harris, a Toledo University tailback who spent last season as a reserve quarterback, rambled 217 yards in 17 trips in leading the Rockets to a 45-18 victory over Villanova last Saturday.

Harris, a junior from Toledo, also scored three touchdowns on runs of 75, 67 and 15 yards as a replacement for the graduated Roland Moss, one of the league's top runners.

Joe Green of Bowling Green, the Falcons' senior middle guard, was outstanding even though his team lost to Utah State, 14-6.

NEW YORK (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin's teams are supposed to be known for their passing but his Atlanta Falcons opened the National Football League season with a big ground effort that left them leading the league in rushing, according to league statistics released today.

Rookie running back Paul Gipson came off the bench to pace the rushers with 69 yards and one touchdown on five carries as Atlanta rushed for 229 yards in a 24-12 win over San Francisco.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Overnight college football hero John Reeves of Florida doesn't expect to slip up on future opponents.

"We're nationally ranked and people know of our passing game," said The Associated Press Back of the Week. "It's rewarding, but such honors also alert your foes and they try twice as hard to show you up."

Bowling Green, 20, Dayton 6; Kent State 13, Xavier 7, Miami 27, Western Michigan 7; Toledo 35, Marshall 13 and Minnesota 20, Ohio U. 19.

Ohio Assembly Eyed By Demos

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democratic control of the Ohio Legislature in next year's election is a primary goal of party leaders at both the state and national level, State Chairman Eugene P. O'Grady said Tuesday.

O'Grady, who recently returned from a series of Washington meetings with national Democratic leaders, said Ohio is one of several target states selected in which party leaders will work hard to change the makeup of legislatures.

O'Grady was named to the Project 70 committee, which will concentrate on campaigns to keep present Democratic legislatures in the fold and to change the Republican-dominated bodies.

Dick Williams Gets The Axe At Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The firing of Dick Williams has stirred controversy galore in this town where just two years ago he was being idolized for leading Boston's 100-1 longshots to their Impossible Dream pennant.

Fan reaction reported on newspapers and on radio and television was mostly critical of the Red Sox after the club announced the ouster of the controversial field boss with a year left to go on his $50,000-a-year contract.

Speculation also was rife that the action represented a coup for dissident players in a throwback to the old "country club" days for which the team was famous before William came on the scene.

General Manager Dick O'Connell told a news conference the firing was "a culmination of a number of things," climaxed by "a falling down of communications between the managerial staff and the players."

Williams acknowledged this as the reason given by the club, but also alluded to a "personality conflict" between himself and owner Yawkey.

Meanwhile most of the players weren't talking for publication—but in some cases they didn't really have to.

"I don't have anything to say," commented George Scott, who was at odds with the manager almost the entire 1968 season. "I think it's obvious how I feel. It's gotta be."

Tony Conigliaro, who made no secret of his unhappiness with a couple of Williams' comments in 1968, also declined to get involved.

Baseball Reserve System Attacked

NEW YORK (AP) — A multimillion dollar damage suit filed by two American League umpires fired abruptly last September could threaten baseball's reserve system, the time-honored manner in which players are bought, sold and kept under contract.

Al Salerno and Bill Valentine, who claimed they were fired Sept. 18, 1968, for trying to form an umpires' union, asked damages of $2 million each Tuesday in the suit filed in Federal Court. Their suit claimed that baseball's reserve system is illegal under the antitrust law.

OU Bobcats To Struggle With Minnesota Saturday

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It has been three long years since ambitious Ohio University ventured into the Midwest for an encounter with a Big Ten team.

Coach Bill Hess' Bobcats resume their "big game" aspirations Saturday when they battle Minnesota at Minneapolis. Purdue was the opponent in 1966 and Ohio came away licking its wounds from a 42-3 pasting.

The Mid-American Conference champions hope to fare a lot better against the Gophers. Minnesota is big and the Bobcats face a decided depth advantage but Cleve Bryant and company might be up for the occasion.

Ohio opened last weekend with a convincing 35-0 whitewash of Kent State. Bryant's rollout running and passing and the swift slats of Harvey Mitchell make the Bobcats formidable.

The Gophers, bidding to rebound from a crushing 43-20 loss to Arizona State, pack a lot of beef.

Miami, the last MAC club to whip a Big Ten foe, opens league warfare by visiting Western Michigan. The Redskins dumped Indiana 29-10 the same year Ohio was losing to Purdue.

In other games Saturday involving MAC clubs, Kent, 1-1, visits Xavier 0-2, under the lights and Bowling Green, 6-1, journeys to Dayton, 0-2, for a night tilt. Toledo rounds out day activity against Marshall at Huntington, W. Va.

Miami, with reserve quarterback Jim Bengala still doing yeoman work as a replacement for Kent Thompson, shoots for its third straight victory over a Western team that has split a pair.

Bengala, throwing most of the time to his favorite target, tight end Gary Arthur has hit 24 of 36 tosses for 353 yards and three touchdowns. Western may present a more formidable attack than Miami has faced in defeating Xavier and Dayton.

Kent, with quarterback Steve Trustdorf and tailback Don Nottingham leading the way, has the edge over twice-beaten Xavier, which has showed little punch.

Bowling Green, losers last week to tough Utah State, figures to overcome graduation-riddled Dayton while Toledo, with junior tailback Tony Harris leading the way, should have no trouble winning its second against Marshall, the suspended MAC team that lost its opener to Morehead State, 27-14.

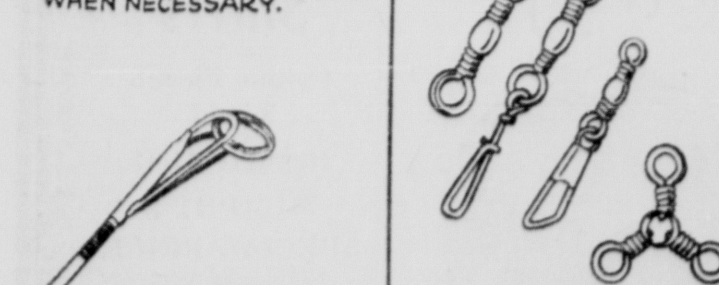

The picks: Bowling Green, 20, Dayton 6; Kent State 13, Xavier 7, Miami 27, Western Michigan 7; Toledo 35, Marshall 13 and Minnesota 20, Ohio U. 19.

4 Area Representatives Attend FLBA Conference

Four representatives of the Federal Land Bank Association of Columbus have returned from Louisville, Ky., where they attended a four state conference of Land Bank Assn. directors and managers September 17 and 18.

Sponsored by the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, the biennial conference is the first such meeting held since the bank and associations celebrated their Golden Anniversary in 1967. Its purpose was to give the men an opportunity to get the latest information on what's ahead for the Land Bank System.

Among the 40 representatives of the 78 Land Bank Associations in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee, those representing the Columbus Association were Lewis J. Hay, Pickaway County director, William W. Betz, Fairfield County director, LeRoy Stevenson, manager and Thomas R. Arntz, field assistant.

In his report on bank operations, E. V. Landers, president, said, "One of the greatest challenges during the past two years has been to meet the legitimate demands for loans in periods of acute scarcity of loan funds and continued escalation of interest rates on our bonds which, as you know, are the principal source of funds for new loans. That we have met this challenge is evidenced by our continued steady and substantial growth."

PCCF Aids Mental Health

During the year, the Pickaway County Mental Health Assn. adjusts its program to the current needs of the county however, certain services remain constant.

Each year a contribution is made to the program for the retarded by providing equipment or funds as requested by the administrators of the Brooks-Yates School and the Pickaway County Sheltered Workshop for Adults.

Funds are used for individuals needing transportation or drugs in connection with participation in the Scioto-Paint Valley Guidance Center located in Chillicothe.

The Association also aids in promoting of mental health legislation, purchases materials for county distribution, provides speakers when requested and represents the county on the State Board of Directors of the Ohio Mental Health Association.

In addition, it serves as a liaison between individuals, discharged after residency in the State Hospital and the community.

Disabled Persons Eligible To Receive SS Benefits

Today more than 1,200,000 disabled persons receive disability benefits under the Social Security Program.

Robert M. Martin, social security district manager in Chillicothe said many individuals who could qualify for disability benefits may not be aware of payments that can be made under this part of the program. Disabled individuals who think they may meet the requirements discussed in this article, should apply for benefits.

Martin explained that a disabled worker must have worked long enough and recently enough in employment covered by Social Security to qualify for benefits. In general, if you are 31 years of age or older you would have to have worked 5 years out of the last 10 years before you became disabled. If you are between age 24 and 30 you meet the work requirement when you worked half the time between age 21 and 30. If you become disabled before age 24 you need credit for 1 1/2 years of work in the three year period before you became disabled.

Once you meet the work requirement, you will be considered to be disabled under the Social Security Law if you have a physical or mental condition which prevents you from working or doing substantial work for a period of at least 12 months or is expected to result in death.

When a worker becomes entitled to disability benefits, other members of his family can also become entitled to benefits. This includes children under age 18, children between 18 and 22 going to school as full-time students, children who have been disabled since before age 18 and still disabled, as well as the worker's wife.

Anyone who meets these requirements, should not delay in applying for benefits. They are advised to contact the district office located at 606 Central Center, Chillicothe about filing an application. Skilled interviewers will assist in the completion of any claim.

Applicants should be prepared to give the names and addresses of doctors and hospitals that have treated them for their disabling conditions, as well as dates of treatment. If there are any children who may qualify for benefits, their birth certificates will be needed. If a disability prevents anyone from visiting the office, other arrangements can be made for filing a claim by phoning 775-4950.

Answers to questions about disability benefits, or any social security questions may be obtained from the Chillicothe District office at 606 Central Center in Chillicothe. The hours are from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday and on Thursdays from 8:45 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Haynsworth Gains Support After Telling Of Stock Buy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth says he regrets purchasing stock in a company involved in a case before his court in 1967 and has told a Senate committee: "I'm not going to get in this predicament again."

Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals and President Nixon's nominee to the Supreme Court, pleaded his case with some apparent success in a second appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

"I guess you will be (confirmed)," said Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., who has taken the lead in probing conflicts of interest charges against Haynsworth at confirmation hearings.

Bayh appeared to be conceding Haynsworth's confirmation before even hearing today's scheduled testimony from more than 20 witnesses, most opposing the South Carolinian.

Another committee member, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said "It would be one of the greatest tragedies the American people could suffer" if Haynsworth were disqualified because of his purchase of 1,000 shares of Brunswick Corp. stock.

Haynsworth said "it never entered my mind" that he had sat on a case involving Brunswick just before purchasing the stock for $16,000. He said the case had been decided at that time, although the decision was not made public until several months later.

The case involved rival claims by Brunswick and a Charleston, S.C., landlord over equipment of a bowling alley proprietor who owed money to both. A lower court awarded the equipment to Brunswick and the circuit court sustained the ruling.

"You wish you had never heard of the Brunswick stock?" asked Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky.

"I do, indeed," Haynsworth replied.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told reporters he was reevaluating what he had earlier described as his reluctant support of Haynsworth's nomination.

Griffin said the Brunswick case was "insignificant in and of itself but it sheds some light" on Haynsworth's sense of propriety and his interpretation of judicial ethics.

Bayh also asked whether Haynsworth had owned stock in the C & O Railroad and had sat on cases in which the railroad was involved. Haynsworth testified he had never owned any C & O stock but his wife had bought 10 shares for $641.

4 Area Representatives Attend FLBA Conference

Four representatives of the Federal Land Bank Association of Columbus have returned from Louisville, Ky., where they attended a four state conference of Land Bank Assn. directors and managers September 17 and 18.

Sponsored by the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, the biennial conference is the first such meeting held since the bank and associations celebrated their Golden Anniversary in 1967. Its purpose was to give the men an opportunity to get the latest information on what's ahead for the Land Bank System.

Among the 40 representatives of the 78 Land Bank Associations in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee, those representing the Columbus Association were Lewis J. Hay, Pickaway County director, William W. Betz, Fairfield County director, LeRoy Stevenson, manager and Thomas R. Arntz, field assistant.

In his report on bank operations E. V. Landers, president, said, "One of the greatest challenges during the past two years has been to meet the legitimate demands for loans in periods of acute scarcity of loan funds and continued escalation of interest rates on our bonds which as you know, are the principal source of funds for new loans. That we have met this challenge is evidenced by our continued steady and substantial growth."

"Since our 50th Anniversary meeting in 1967 we have grown nearly $170 million in volume and 2,300 in number of loans to a present outstanding of more than $755 million to 44,440 farm owners. I submit that a 29 per cent increase in loans in times like these is a pretty good measure of our service to farmers."

"I am hopeful for a drop in interest rates but it is not yet in sight," he said. "The Land Bank will continue to make funds available to farmers at the lowest possible cost based on the cost of money to the bank. Currently we are able to supply the individual farmer with real estate credit at an interest rate under the 'prime rate' charged major industries and big business by other lenders. We will not let up in our effort."

Landers reminded the directors and managers that the bank has voluntarily lowered the interest rate on existing loans three times in the past when conditions permitted. "This practice," he said, "is particularly important when interest rates are relatively high compared with those of past years."

Also appearing on the program were Edwin A. Jaenke, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C.; and Donald L. Henry, manager of the Louisville branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

PCCF Aids Mental Health

During the year, the Pickaway County Mental Health Assn. adjusts its program to the current needs of the county however, certain services remain constant.

Each year a contribution is made to the program for the retarded by providing equipment or funds as requested by the administrators of the Brooks-Yates School and the Pickaway County Sheltered Workshop for Adults.

Funds are used for individuals needing transportation or drugs in connection with participation in the Scioto-Paint Valley Guidance Center located in Chillicothe.

The Association also aids in promoting of mental health legislation, purchases materials for county distribution, provides speakers when requested and represents the county on the State Board of Directors of the Ohio Mental Health Association.

In addition, it serves as a liaison between individuals, discharged after residency in the State Hospital and the community.

Disabled Persons Eligible To Receive SS Benefits

Today more than 1,200,000 disabled persons receive disability benefits under the Social Security Program.

Robert M. Martin, social security district manager in Chillicothe said many individuals who could qualify for disability benefits may not be aware of payments that can be made under this part of the program. Disabled individuals who think they may meet the requirements discussed in this article, should apply for benefits.

Martin explained that a disabled worker must have worked long enough and recently enough in employment covered by Social Security to qualify for benefits. In general, if you are 31 years of age or older you would have to have worked 5 years out of the last 10 years before you became disabled. If you are between age 24 and 30 you must meet the work requirement when you worked half the time between age 21 and 30. If you become disabled before age 24 you need credit for 1 1/2 years of work in the three year period before you became disabled.

Once you meet the work requirement, you will be considered to be disabled under the Social Security Law if you have a physical or mental condition which prevents you from working or doing substantial work for a period of at least 12 months or is expected to result in death.

When a worker becomes entitled to disability benefits, other members of his family can also become entitled to benefits. This includes children under age 18, children between 18 and 22 going to school as full-time students, children who have been disabled since before age 18 and still disabled, as well as the worker's wife.

Anyone who meets these requirements, should not delay in applying for benefits. They are advised to contact the district office located at 606 Central Center, Chillicothe about filing an application. Skilled interviewers will assist in the completion of any claim.

Applicants should be prepared to give the names and addresses of doctors and hospitals that have treated them for their disabling conditions, as well as dates of treatment. If there are any children who may qualify for benefits, their birth certificates will be needed. If a disability prevents anyone from visiting the office, other arrangements can be made for filing a claim by phoning 775-4950.

Answers to questions about disability benefits, or any social security questions may be obtained from the Chillicothe District office at 606 Central Center in Chillicothe. The hours are from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday and on Thursdays from 8:45 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Haynsworth Gains Support After Telling Of Stock Buy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth says he regrets purchasing stock in a company involved in a case before his court in 1967 and has told a Senate committee: "I'm not going to get in this predicament again."

Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals and President Nixon's nominee to the Supreme Court, pleaded his case with some apparent success in a second appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

"I guess you will be (confirmed)," said Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., who has taken the lead in probing conflicts of interest charges against Haynsworth at confirmation hearings. Bayh appeared to be conceding Haynsworth's confirmation before even hearing today's scheduled testimony from more than 20 witnesses, most opposing the South Carolinian.

Another committee member, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said "It would be one of the greatest tragedies the American people could suffer" if Haynsworth were disqualified because of his purchase of 1,000 shares of Brunswick Corp. stock.

Haynsworth said "it never entered my mind" that he had sat on a case involving Brunswick just before purchasing the stock for $16,000. He said the case had been decided at that time, although the decision was not made public until several months later.

The case involved rival claims by Brunswick and a Charleston, S.C., landlord over equipment of a bowling alley proprietor who owed money to both. A lower court awarded the equipment to Brunswick and the circuit court sustained the ruling.

"You wish you had never heard of the Brunswick stock?" asked Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky.

"I do, indeed," Haynsworth replied.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told reporters he was reevaluating what he had earlier described as his reluctant support of Haynsworth's nomination.

Griffin said the Brunswick case was "insignificant in and of itself but it sheds some light" on Haynsworth's sense of propriety and his interpretation of judicial ethics.

Bayh also asked whether Haynsworth had owned stock in the C & O Railroad and had sat on cases in which the railroad was involved. Haynsworth testified he had never owned any C & O stock but his wife had bought 10 shares for $641.

Polaris submarines would be determined in relation to the Air Force's Minuteman missiles, and the missile force would be considered in relation to the bomber force.

In the general-purpose forces, Pentagon planners would fashion packages in which the Army's division, the Air Force's tactical fighters and the Navy's carriers all would be considered together with the aim of achieving a balance to meet national commitments.

Also, instead of operating on a year-to-year basis, McNamara instituted a system of projecting ahead five years to facilitate unified long-range planning.

While restoring some of the powers of the individual services, Laird is not going all the way back to the original system, under which inter-service rivalries flourished.
